College Will Have Total of 75 Prelates

Vatican City—Pope John XXIII today named 23 new cardinals, including the archbishops of Boston and Philadelphia.

A consistory Dec. 15 will give the new cardinals their red hats.

Thirteen of the new cardinals are Italians.

Cardinals designate from the United States are Msgr. Richard James Cushing, 63, archbishop of Boston, and Msgr. John F. O'Hara, 70, archbishop of Philadelphia.

The Vatican said the present members of the college of cardinals would meet in secret consistory Dec. 15 to confirm the pope's nominations. The pontiff will present the red hats of their rank to the new cardinals in a private ceremony Dec. 17, and a public consistory honoring them will be held Dec. 18.

Amleto Cicognani, apostolic delegate to the United States who is stationed in Washington, D. C., also was nominated to be a prince of the church.

Number Increased

The consistory, first of Pope John's reign, will increase the membership of the college of cardinals for the first time in almost four centuries, from 70 to 75. The present 70-member college, a complement established by Pope Sixtus V, has 18 vacancies.

Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York and James Francis Cardinal McIntyre of Los Angeles are the present Americans.

Others to be elevated to the churchly purple are:

Msgrs. Jose Garibi Y Rivera, 69, archbishop of Guadalajara, Mexico; Paul Giobbe, 78, apostolic internuncio to the Netherlands; Antonio Maria Barbieri, 66, archbishop of Montevideo, Uruguay; William Godfrey, 69, archbishop of Westminster, London; Paul Marie Richard, 71, archbishop of Bordeaux, France; Joseph Bueno Y Monreal, 54, archbishop of Seville, Spain; Franziskus Koenig, 53, archbishop of Vienna; Julius Doepfner, 45, bishop of Berlin; Andrea Julien, of France, dean of the Vatican Rota.

Msgr. Tardini Elevated

Among the Italians named was Msgr. Domenico Tardini, 70, whom the pope announced earlier today he had appointed Vatican secretary of state, in charge of the Holy See's relations with foreign governments.

Msgr. Tardini had administered the secretary of state's office as pro-secretary, a post to which he was named by the late Pope Pius XII. But Pope Pius himself a veteran of the Vatican diplomatic service, had never named a full secretary of state to succeed Luigi Cardinal Maglione, who died in 1944.

Another Italian to be elevated is Msgr. Giovanni Battista.

Kansas City—Machinists union members have rejected a Trans World Airlines wage offer and a strike again is a possibility.

"This means there will be a strike unless there is some adjustment made in the company offer," Cliff Miller, chairman of District 142, International Association of Machinists, said yesterday.

Deer Season Claims Lives Of 10 Hunters

New London Man Dies of Heart Attack; Appleton Man Hurt

An Appleton man was seriously wounded and a New London man died of a heart ailment while deer hunting over the weekend.

The Wisconsin deer season has claimed ten lives thus far, four by gunshot wounds and six others by heart attacks, the Associated Press reports.

Lawrence E. Olson, 51, 1403 S. Lawe street, was wounded in the back of the head Sunday as he hunted near Laona. He is reported in serious condition in a Cranston hospital.

He was shot by Charles Pulley, 19, Pulaski, who jumped several deer in a swamp and started shooting, according to Undersheriff Edgar Wilson of Forest county.

Olson has a fractured skull but has "a good chance," Wilson said. The hunter's left side is paralyzed.

Olson was to arrive in Appleton this afternoon after transfer here by Larry's ambulance. A nerve specialist was to examine him for possible brain damage.

Found Dead

Levi Krake, 51, New London, was found dead Saturday morning in his parked car about 20 miles north of Shawano. Krake had been hunting with a party of 10 and complained of feeling ill after a deer drive. He returned to his car to rest and apparently suffered a heart attack.

Krake was born June 12, 1908, at Land o' Lakes.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday at Emanuel Lutheran church, New London, with burial in Floral Hill cemetery, New London. Friends may call at the Cline and Hanson Funeral home, New London, until 10 a.m. Tuesday and then at the church.

He is survived by the widow; his mother, Mrs. Bertha Krake, New London; and a

Kidnap Victim Back Without Paying Ransom

Palermo, Sicily—The kidnappers of elderly bricklayer Alberto Castello of Long Island let their captive go apparently because they decided he was no ransom prize.

The 72-year-old Castello, Copiague, N. Y., pale and shaken by his week-long experience, told reporters yesterday he just walked out of the kidnappers' cave when they failed to keep their daily schedule of visits to bring him food.

The naturalized American and his wife stuck close to police for protection today waiting to return to the United States. They probably will leave tomorrow.

The couple came back to their native Sicily three months ago for a visit after 49 years in the United States.

Military Coup in Sudan

Cairo—Another Middle Eastern parliamentary democracy went into eclipse to measure of support for the Abdou coup. The general British mission Khartoum was supported by his deputy commander, Maj. Gen. Ahmed Pasha Abdel Wahab, and so far as can be determined here had the backing of the entire army.

The two officers immediately called on Sudan's two top religious leaders, who are powerful political figures as well—Abdel Rahman el Mahdi, leader of the Ansari sect, and Ali Mirghani, leader of the Khatma sect. The radio said both these leaders blessed the coup. If this is true the military junta already is guaranteed solid popular backing.

Parties Dissolved

The government radio in Khartoum, the Sudanese capital, broadcast a declaration in the name of Abdou promising to do his best to achieve good relations with President Nasser's United Arab Republic.

(British government sources in London saw Abdou's coup as an army bid to stall a political reconciliation with the U.A.R. They said the news, which was reported

5 Killed in Eau Claire Crash; 12 in State Toll

Three Members of an Eau Claire family died in this car as a result of a collision on Highway 53 in Chippewa county Saturday night. Two others in another car were also killed in one of the state's worst traffic accidents.

10 Die in In Texas Collision

By The Associated Press

A 3-car crash on a super-highway near Eau Claire Saturday night killed 5 persons, and a head-on collision between an auto and a pickup truck just north of San Augustine, Texas, early today killed 10 persons and injured 2 others.

Three members of one family died in the Eau Claire accident. A total of 12 lives were lost in Wisconsin weekend traffic accidents.

The state's death count stood at 713 compared with 796 on this day a year ago.

In the 3-car crash, two of the autos collided head-on on a one-way section of Highway 53, a 4-lane, divided highway. The crash occurred six miles north of Eau Claire. Killed in the wreck were:

Floyd Wooley, Sr., 51, of Eau Claire; his wife, Thelma, 45, their son, Floyd Wooley, Jr., 22; Daryold Everson, 21, of Eleva, and Phillip Christanson, 23, of Osseo.

Injured were Doris Smith, 18, of Chippewa Falls; Richard Lorek, 30, of Eau Claire, and Donald Wooley, 12, son of the senior Wooleys. The girl was listed in fair condition at an Eau Claire hospital as was the Wooley boy.

Lorek, alone in the third car, was released after treatment at an Eau Claire hospital.

Describes Tragedy

Chippewa county police quoted Lorek as saying he was traveling north when the Wooley car passed him at a moderate speed, but then apparently struck something in the road. Lorek's car hit the rear of the Wooley auto.

Then Lorek said, it appeared that the car driven by Christanson turned from a side road and started south on the northbound lane. The Wooley and Christanson autos collided head-on.

Two other highway accidents this year took a greater toll of lives. Seven persons died in a Columbia county crash Aug. 15 and six in a Fond du Lac collision Aug. 2.

Auto Hits Tree

Killed Sunday in a Milwaukee county crash was Anthony Skandal, about 40, of Milwaukee, who died when his car left a highway and struck a tree.

Arthur E. Herr, 63, of Milwaukee, was killed Sunday night when his car struck a tree after leaving a street in Pewaukee, Waukesha county.

John Shenkerik, 64, of Milwaukee, died at Waukesha Memorial hospital Saturday night of injuries suffered earlier in the day. He was hurt in a two-car crash in rural Waukesha county.

Floyd Bignell, 43, of Durand, was injured fatally Saturday when the tractor he was using to haul wood was involved in a collision on Pepin County Highway N near his home.

Victims reported earlier were:

Chester Spencer, 37, Milwaukee; Mrs. Hazel Gallion,

Incorporation papers for the Garden Terrace, Inc., which will construct the building, will be filed in a few days by E. Barney Grishaber, operator of Club Terrace.

Karl P. Baldwin and Richard Garvey, both of Appleton Grishaber will be the principal stockholders.

Cost of the motel and remodeling of Club Terrace is estimated at $500,000.

Garvey said the club dining room and kitchen will be expanded and the motel lobby will be attached to the present building.

In the plans are a swimming pool, air conditioning, room service, phones in all rooms, meals, private dining rooms, sample rooms for salesmen and meeting rooms, he said.

Some parts of the motel will be 2-story, with sleeping quarters on the first floor and meeting and sample rooms on the second.

Texan Assures UN People Support Ike's Proposal

United Nations, N.Y.—he said, "do not acknowledge that there are landlords of the earth on the price of access to this new domain."

Johnson said the formal operation already undertaken during the international geophysical year had demonstrated what can be done.

He added: "If we fail now to apply the lessons we have learned, or even if we delay their application, we know that the advances into space may only mean adding a new dimension to warfare."

2 Girls to Inherit Castle in Austria

And About $250,000

San Francisco—Two girls, whose home is a modest flat over a San Francisco grocery store, have been named heirs to an Austrian castle and one-fourth of a million dollar estate.

The Chronicle said today they are the daughters of the late Archduke Albrecht von Hapsburg - Lothringen, who once hoped for the crown of Hungary. He died in 1955.

The new paper said it learned of the girl's good fortune by telephone from Christian Broda, an attorney in Vienna. Broda said an Austrian court had ruled that the archduke's true wife was their mother, Catherine Lorraine, a well-groomed clerk in a financial district office here.

She had not told Hilda, 16, and Sarolta, 18, that they might become title holders until 1932 when she filed a suit here and became their legal guardian.

"They grew up as Americans, thanks to God," the mother declared.

The mother is to receive a comfortable living from the estate, Broda said, but the daughters will get a much larger share.

Tornado Hits Texas Area

Oklahoma Border Region Also in Path of Storm

Iowa Park, Texas—A tornado and tornado-like winds struck this north central Texas area near the Oklahoma line today. The winds wrecked structures at the Texas-Oklahoma fair grounds and a roof was taken off one house at Iowa Park.

Also knocked down was a 150-foot antenna. Iowa Park authorities said the damage covered a 4-block square area.

Witnesses also reported a small tornado funnel 3 miles west of Wichita Falls and about 4 miles east of Iowa Park. They reported it caused some damage and injured at least one person. Homes and trailer homes were damaged.

On Lake Leon, near Eastland, a tornado spun across the lake, turning into a water spout. It picked up a bathhouse about 20 by 28 feet and turned it upside down.

Agreement Ends Chrysler Strike

Detroit—The picket lines came down and Chrysler Corp today swung back into the production of 1959 model cars.

Chrysler and the United Auto Workers union came to terms on new contracts for white-collar workers last night at the end of a grueling bargaining session of almost 34 hours.

Although only 8,000 of Chrysler's 75,000 UAW members were on strike, picket lines kept production and maintenance workers away from their jobs, virtually closing down Chrysler's car-making operations for almost a week.

Going into the weekend, 61,000 workers were idle and 32 plants were closed. Chrysler started calling them back to work on the first shift today.

Most of Chrysler's car-making facilities are in Detroit where 50,000 of the workers are employed.

East German Reds Try 'Soft Sell' Method

Communists Make Two Peaceful Gestures Toward Western Allies, But Receive Cold Shoulder

BY SEYMOUR TOPPING

Berlin.—East Germany's communist regime seemed today to be pushing the soft sell in an effort to coax recognition from the west. The west wasn't buying. After belligerently echoing Premier Khrushchev's demand that the United States, Britain and France give up their protective occupation of West Berlin, the east Germans made two conciliatory gestures: They unexpectedly freed tourist George S. Milroy of

Milroy

Ann Arbor, Mich., after holding him for four weeks as an apparent pawn to force the United States to negotiate for his release.

Offers Deal

East German Party Boss Walter Ulbricht announced in a speech that he was prepared to deal "reasonably" with the western powers in Berlin if Russia makes good on her threat to withdraw from the present 4-power, occupation set-up.

A Soviet withdrawal presumably would be followed by East German interference with road, rail and barge traffic between West Germany and the western allied garrisons in West Berlin. The western powers assume the Russians will retain control of the air corridors to Berlin and have said they would supply their sectors of the city by air rather than deal with the East German regime.

Stop Convoy

Traffic between the city and West Germany flowed normally. The only interruption has been the detention of a 3-truck, U. S. military convoy Friday. The Americans brought the trucks back to Berlin rather than agree to inspection of their loads.

A jeep-led 2-truck convoy, the first sent out of Berlin by the Americans since the Friday incident, went through the Russian check-point at Bahlsberg today without incident.

Willy Brandt, mayor of West Berlin, in a calming speech to his people last night, said he did not believe the communists were ready to attempt a new blockade. "I do not believe that the American transport planes which are standing by will have to be used," he said, referring to the airlift that broke the 1948 blockade.

New Tactic

Brandt said the communists started their new tactic for two reasons—to choke off the stream of east German refugees into West Berlin and to injure West Berlin's economy.

The communists want refugees to fear West Berlin is not a safe haven and want to alarm investors, he said, but "the effort to create unrest and insecurity among us can be regarded as shattered."

Khrushchev's get-out-of-Berlin declaration a week ago gave the east German communists a late campaign talking point in yesterday's election of a new sub-parliament. With only the communist-approved slate presented, the only question was how many of the 11 million voters the Reds could get to the polls to vote yes. In the 1950 and 1954 elections, the communists claimed more than 99 per cent endorsed their ticket.

Drop Demand

In releasing tourist Milroy at the west German border Saturday night, the east Germans dropped their demand that the United States open direct diplomatic bargaining for his freedom.

He was arrested by Russians on Oct. 17 near Neustrelitz, 70 miles north of Berlin, on charges of taking an unauthorized picture of military installations. He was turned over to the east Germans, who hinted he would be tried for spying.

The Russians answered American protests by saying the case should be taken up with "sovereign" east Germany.

Milroy, a 30-year-old salesman traveling on an east German visa, denied taking military pictures. He said he had asked a Soviet sentry for permission to photograph a decorated archway near a Soviet camp and decided not to take the picture when the soldier didn't answer him.

The communists returned his sports car and camera when they freed him.

Great Social Reform Writer Dies at 87

Beaufort, S.C.—One of America's great social reform writers, Samuel Hopkins Adams, author of such best sellers as "Flaming Youth" and "Revelry," died at the age of 87. Adams, suffering in his last years from arthritis and heart trouble, died at his winter home here.

Adams

He was one of the "Muck-rakers," famous in American literature for their turn-of-the-century crusades for reforms in business and industry.

Health Articles

He wrote a series of health articles in Collier's magazine of that day that are given much credit for bringing on federal pure food and drug laws.

At least 17 of his books, including "Flaming Youth," were made into movies. That one, and some others, he wrote under the pseudonym of Waver Fabian.

A native of Dunkirk, N.Y., he was educated at Hamilton college. He described the substantial upper middle class life of his family to live in New York city's rough tenement district. There he got much material for his writings.

His father was Myron Adams, a Congregational minister.

The funeral will be at St. Helena's Episcopal church here.

Bob Hope Awarded Prize From Union

Beverly Hills, Calif.—Bob Hope was presented the 1958 Murray-Green award of the AFL-CIO last night at a banquet in Beverly Hills.

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, said the award was being given to Hope for his contributions to "hundreds of worthy causes and benefits" and for entertaining U.S. servicemen.

Hope said the $5,000 presented with the award will be used to establish a scholarship.

Meyer Enthroned as Archbishop of Chicago

Nation's Youngest Prelate Takes Over Largest Diocese in America

Chicago.—With the pomp and ancient ritual of the Roman Catholic Church, Archbishop Albert B. Meyer was enthroned Sunday as Archbishop of Chicago.

Archbishop Meyer, at 55, is the nation's youngest archbishop; the archdiocese which he heads is the nation's largest, ministering for the spiritual needs of almost 2 million Catholics.

More than 1,700 persons filled the Holy Name Cathedral to capacity. Thousands more jammed the adjoining streets in a drizzle to watch the procession of more than 400 bishops, monsignors and priests escort the archbishop from the Holy Name rectory to the cathedral for the three-hour ceremony intoned in Latin and English.

A thousand white chrysanthemums decorated the white altar. To the left of the altar was the archbishop's throne, adorned in the emerald green, symbolic of his office.

Delegate Officials Archbishop Amleto Giovanni Cicognani, apostolic delegate to the United States, officiated at the service. After the enthronement, he celebrated a solemn pontifical mass.

Archbishop Meyer, the fifth archbishop of the Chicago archdiocese, succeeded the late Samuel Cardinal Stritch, who died in Rome last summer after taking an appointment as pro-prefect of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith.

In addition to heading the archdiocese, Archbishop Meyer holds two other high Roman Catholic posts. He is a member of the administrative board of the National Catholic Welfare conference with headquarters in Washington.

Power's Widow Prepares for Sad Journey

Madrid, Spain.—Debbie Ann Power prepared today for the tragic trip back to Hollywood with the body of her husband, actor Tyrone Power, who died Saturday of a heart attack.

The young widow, who expects to bear Power's child in February, is to leave shortly after midnight for New York by plane with the star's body. His secretary for 20 years, William Gallagher, is making the trip also.

Power was stricken on the set of the movie "Solomon and Sheba," in which he played one title role, and Gina Lollobrigida the other.

Today producer Ted Richmond, director King Vidor, production manager Richard McWaters and other company officials were in steady conference to decide the future of the picture, which was more than 60 per cent completed when Power died.

Nelson Says He Will Set 2-Year Budget

Had Panned to Estimate Expenses On Yearly Basis

Milwaukee.—Democrat Gov-elect Gaylord Nelson has changed his mind and announced he will prepare a traditional two-year budget for Wisconsin.

But he added that the spending program for the second 12 months will be reviewed after the first year of his term and that a special session of the Legislature will be called to act on a fiscal program for the second year.

Nelson made his announcement Saturday night during a television interview. He also said that he was considering a plan to put the payment of state income taxes on a withholding basis.

Former Position

Nelson had announced plans for his one-year budget late in the campaign and repeated his position last week. He was named Wisconsin's first Democratic governor since 1932 in the Nov. 4 election when he defeated incumbent Republican Gov. Vernon Thomson. Nelson takes office in January.

Thomson quickly attacked Nelson's one-year plan, saying it represented "planned disregard and evasion of the clear statutory mandate."

Nelson did not mention Thomson's criticism, but made it clear he will at least technically comply with the law, even though he did not agree with it.

"No corporation would think of setting up a two-year budget," he said.

Defends Plan

In defense of his plan, Nelson added that he felt state departments were incapable of planning two years ahead and usually pad their second year's requests just to play it safe. He also said an incoming governor cannot reasonably be expected to judge the merit of requests for more than a billion dollars in a few weeks. He will open budget hearings Nov. 24.

In discussing a withholding system for state tax payments, Nelson said such a plan would result in a financial windfall for the state because it would, in effect, double taxes for one year.

But he said there would be administrative problems connected with such a move, among them the fact that many taxpayers would be paying only 1 or 2 dollars a month, hardly enough to justify the collection expense.

Nelson declined to answer questions on his proposal to study the impact of taxes on the individual taxpayer as the forerunner of a general tax revision.

"Until the study is made, it is foolish to talk in advance about what to do about the tax structure because it is an uninformed guess," he said.

Hope Dims for Flyers Who Bailed Out of Crippled Cargo Plane

Two Air Force Officers Still Missing in Mountain Range

Hill Air Force Base, Utah.—Are two air force officers who bailed out of a crippled cargo plane still alive after more than three days in the blizzard ravaged mountains of northeastern Utah?

Hope for the survival of Capt. Donald Liggett, 40, Indianapolis, Ind., navigator, and Lt. Donald E. Born, 28, Andover, N.Y., pilot, were as dim as the frigid dawn this morning as air force planes and helicopters prepared to search for another day of tree.

Intermittent clouds, snowfalls and haze prevented much of men parachuted from their terrain yesterday and aerial search operations halted of its two engines stopped on a flight over the rugged mountains about 30 miles east of here. The plane was en route to its home base here, section where Born and Liggett were believed to have fallen.

Special TV Report on Boris Pasternak Due

Jack Benny Outfit Buys Rights to Use
Controversial 'Gaslight' Satire Soon

BY JINGO
A special report on Boris Pasternak, man with a problem bigger than yours, will be presented on WBAY-TV at 4 p. m. Sunday.

Pasternak, you'll recall, is embarrassed about being selected as this year's Nobel Prize winner in literature.

His novel, "Dr. Zhivago," was banned in his native Soviet Union, but talent would out and ceremonies are scheduled Dec. 10.

Pasternak, who originally accepted the award in the face of official Soviet hostility, now says he may pass this hand. There has been considerable uproar at home since the Nobel announcement, even though there's been no publication of the award.

Long regarded as the outstanding living Russian poet, Pasternak probably also is embarrassed by the sale record of his book, a best seller in the United States and other Western nations.

CBS News has lined up some of his friends, newsmen who spent time in Russia and other experts for the half hour show. The book's publishers have granted permission to quote extensively from the work.

ABC-TV will televise the New York premiere of "Mardi Gras," the Pat Boone-Gary Crosby picture, at 7:30 tonight. It'll be unique because technicians will try to pick up the opening five minutes of the film directly from the Cinemascope screen. WFRV-TV may not carry it. . . . WFRV-TV, by the way, will sponsor Golden Gloves boxing at the Brown county Arena in February. Savvie Canadeo will be in charge. . . . Dody Goodman this week begins regular twice-weekly performances on NBC radio's "Bert Parks' Bandstand." The show also is inaugurating live appearances of top recording stars.

Money, a last resort, has cleared the way for TV presentation in a month or two of Jack Benny's satirization of "Gaslight," the old movie and play.

Benny's production company has plunked it on the line with MGM for a 7-year license and with Author Patrick Hamilton for 7-year rights.

The satire, never seen on TV, was protested by MGM and Hamilton, who went to court.

Starring with Benny in the nonsense are Barbara Stanwyk, Bob Crosby, Rochester and Don Wilson.

Writer Says TV Plagued by Conformity

7 Top Dramatists Air Criticisms on New York Program

BY CHARLES MERCER

New York—(AP)—“Television is headed down the road to radio. It's plunging into massism and we're all trying to be conformists,” says Paddy Chayefsky, TV dramatist who has quit the medium that brought him recognition.

He made the statement in a 2-hour discussion with six other leading television dramatists on Producer David Susskind's New York City program, “Open End.” A tape of the program is being made available to stations around the country by National Telefilm Associates.

Appearing on the program with Chayefsky were Robert Alan Aurthur, Sumner Locke Elliott, James Lee, J. P. Miller, Tad Mosel and David Shaw. All to some degree find television restrictive and censorious of many of the dramatic commentaries they want to make on contemporary life.

“What's Wrong With TV,” Susskind, one of the ablest and most intelligently optimistic producers in television, emphasized again and again that the medium needs them.

“Our country is racing into anonymity and television is going along,” replied Chayefsky.

“What's worse,” said Aurthur, “it's glorifying anonymity by calling it ‘togetherness.’”

Susskind objected that these were “Olympian comments,” that there still is a lot of life in live television, that good drama can express affirmation as well as negation.

Writers Express Life

“Why don't writers look for affirmation,” said Aurthur, “is another way of saying, ‘The most exciting work that I see is being done by writers who look around and see total disaster.’ And it may very well be that they're right. It may be that we're living in a culture that is headed for total disaster. If this is true, it is certainly valid for the artist who sees it that way to write about it.”

He recalled that the Robert

Democrats Already Thinking About '60

State Committee Eyes GOP Pockets of Strength in Counties

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Milwaukee — Democratic state organization chiefs gathered here during the weekend to contemplate a feast after a quarter of a century of acute hunger.

The bystander expected some gloating, or at least a little crowing, about the spectacular series of political victories the long-time minority party scored in this historically Republican state.

But there was little of that. Party Chairman Pat Lucey glowed a bit as he ran through the sequence of happy election victories, but on the whole there was a subdued atmosphere about the session of the Democratic state committee. There remain some pockets of Republican resistance to mop up, the politicians told themselves. The time to launch the 1960 campaign is now. A respect for the recuperative powers of the long-dominant but now desolate Wisconsin GOP remains, according to the signs.

Some Highlights

Highlights of the first post-election meeting of the Democratic organization leadership included:

1. Lucey's broad hint that he may quit as party chairman, and that the organization must look for a new boss to be chosen at the 1959 party convention, probably next August.

2. A hearty endorsement of Paul Butler as chairman of the Democratic national committee and a resolution of defiance against southern critics who want to oust the liberal head of the national organization.

3. A resolution of support of Gov.-elect Gaylord Nelson's novel plan to finance the state and arrange its budget on an annual basis, instead of the biennial system of tradition.

4. A cheerful prediction of party officers that a sizeable campaign fund deficit can be made good at a statewide "victory dinner" to raise funds.

5. A plan to start work immediately on the recruitment of local courthouse slates for 1960, in an effort to break down entrenched Republican power in Wisconsin local governments that generally survived the Democratic onslaught in this fall's elections.

Lucey said he had been tempted to resign as chairman after the Nov. 4 election, and may be forced to do so for personal and business reasons.

sons, but that he has agreed to stay on temporarily. Party officers reported campaign over-spending by the organization of about $10,000, but there was little doubt that the sum can be raised and that there are bold plans for further money-raising to pay for an early 1960 campaign effort.

A party that is winning finds it relatively easy to raise funds, remarked Treasurer David Rabinovitz, Sheboygan labor lawyer.

Herman Jessen of Phelps, Wisconsin Democratic national committeeman, reported that the national organization is also heavily in debt, but isn't worried about it.

Like other party chieftains, Lucey discussed happily the Democrats' extraordinary victories in the gubernatorial, congressional and legislative contests, but he warned that they did little to dislodge Republicans from their courthouse perches. Republican county officers outnumber Democrats 400 to 116, he noted grimly.

Something of the optimistic spirit of the organization was shown, however, by Lucey's plan to publish a weekly tabloid newspaper as a Democratic organ. He asked committee approval to establish Jan. 1 as the target date for its launching, but the committee asked that party leaders study the matter more thoroughly before making a decision.

Eye Megellas, Singler, Clapp, For '60 Races

Trio Ran Strongly Against Republican Incumbents This Fall

Milwaukee — Three men with Fox Cities ties may be drafted by Democratic leaders to run against incumbent Republican congressmen in 1960.

The trio, Milo Singler, Shiocton, Norman Clapp, Lancaster, and James Megellas, Fond du Lac, ran strongly against the incumbents this fall.

M. L. Richdorf, Sheboygan, a veteran of Democratic organization politics, told party organization officials over the weekend here that the trio should be strongly encouraged to make new attempts to unseat the Republicans. Others echoed the idea.

Clapp Strongest

Singler lost to veteran John W. Byrnes, Green Bay, by about 17,000 votes in the Eighth district, which includes Appleton and the rest of Outagamie county.

Megellas, Fond du Lac councilman, ran extraordinarily well in a district usually assumed to be strongly Republican, Richdorf said. He lost to William K. Van Pelt by about 6,000 votes in the Sixth district, which includes Neenah, Menasha, and surrounding towns.

Clapp, former Appleton High school and Lawrence college student, made the strongest run of the three, against Gardner Withrow in the Third district.

Singler, only congressional candidate at the meeting, told a reporter afterward he would require a good deal more financial assistance from the party to venture a third run against Byrnes.

In a brief speech, he said it was better for the party that he lost than that the state ticket lost. But, he said, Democrats have not yet mastered the business of organizing a strong congressional campaign.

"It is rough to carry through pretty much alone. The organization must do more," he said.

Democrats Set Gala Time for Inauguration

More Inquiries of Ball Than Patronage, Chairman Lucey Says

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — Democrats unaccustomed to victories in elections, will really celebrate when they inaugurated their slate of new state administration officials in January.

Details about the gala time are leaking out of Democratic headquarters and a few discreet references to the happy plans were made at the Democratic state committee meeting in Milwaukee during the weekend.

As Lt. Gov.-elect Phil Lee Nash put it, the partisans are determined to have some "hills look like."

Said Party Chairman Pat Lucey, with what appeared to be incredulity:

"I'm getting more inquiries about the inaugural ball than about patronage."

Another Democrat said candidly: "There are thousands of us side of the executive mansion looks like."

(The state provides a palatial lake shore mansion in Madison as a residence for the governor and his family.)

One lady Democrat who is in a position to know what is being prepared indicated something of what is in the wind.

"It won't be a Jacksonian mob," she said, "but it is going to be a good crowd."

Republican regimes of recent years have avoided merry-making and celebrations, perhaps because Republican victories were so common. The last formal ball in the old

KHS Cagers to Open Season Here Tuesday

Fond du Lac, First Non-Loop Opponent, Has Height Edge

Kaukauna — The Kaukauna High school cager squad will open the 1958-59 season at 8 p.m. Tuesday playing a non-conference tilt against a strong Fond du Lac quintet of the Fox Valley league.

This will be the first basketball meeting between the two schools although the football teams met a few times in the early 1900s. As in most games this year, the Ghosts will be facing a much taller opponent as Kaukauna has only two starters over six feet. The invaders will be able to start five tall boys.

Coach Jerry Hopfensperger has been drilling his team on ball control, speed and accuracy in an attempt to overcome some of the height handicap. Kaukauna has five letter winners back although a few boys earned monograms in reserve capacities.

Kaukauna is likely to open with an all junior line-up although two seniors are sure to break into the game before the evening is over. The coach indicates he may try various combinations before the evening is over to see how the 12 men operate under game conditions.

Starting for Kaukauna will be Lee Weyenberg, 6-1, at center, Bill Borchardt, 5-10, and Myron Zachowski, 6-1, at forwards, and Jim Steger, 5-9, and Ron Busse, 5-9, at guards. Others to see action include Gary Vanevenhoven, Harry Gast, Tom Frank, Dan Lamers, Ken Kavanagh, Mike Landerman and Cy Vanderhorst.

Fond du Lac Coach Carl Smedberg, will counter with "Hub" King, 6-3; Darwin Rose, 6-5; Mike Murphy, 6-4; Darrell McArthur, 6-2; and Jim Damm, 6-foot. Dick Bestor, 5-9, is the sixth letter winner who may crack the starting line-up.

The Jayvee squads from the two schools will clash in a preliminary tilt at 8:45 p.m. Coach Harold Kohn of the Junior Ghosts has a 9-man squad including eight sophomores and one freshman.

Women Foresters Plan Christmas Party

Kaukauna — Plans were outlined for a covered dish Christmas party Dec. 10 at the last meeting of St. Ann's, Court 228, Women's Catholic Order of Foresters.

About 150 women attended the meeting which was highlighted by a pantry shower for nuns at Holy Cross school.

Games were played, prizes awarded and lunch served by Mrs. Dora Rute and Mrs. Charles Vanevenhoven.

FASTEETH, a pleasant alkaline (non-acid) powder, holds false teeth more firmly. To eat and talk in more comfort. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. No gummy, goopy, pasty taste or feeling. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Two Drivers Pay Traffic Fines in Justice Court

Little Chute — Two persons pleaded guilty to traffic violations when arraigned before Anton Jansen, justice of the peace, Friday and both were assessed fines and costs.

James D. Vile, 25, 1500 N. Summit street, Appleton, was fined $20 and costs for inattentive driving. He was arrested by village police Nov. 8 after being involved in an accident. He will have five points charged against his record toward revocation of his driver's license, two for inattentive driving and three for causing an accident.

Mrs. Gertrude Brown, 218 Margaret street, Kaukauna, was fined $10 and costs for speeding. She was arrested by police Friday morning and will have three points charged against her driving record.

Art Center Director To Address Rotarians

Kaukauna — George P. Nevitt, director of Paine Art center and arboretum, Oshkosh, will be the speaker at the Rotary club luncheon at noon Wednesday at the Elk's clubrooms.

Nevitt, past district governor of the Oshkosh area for Rotary, will present an illustrated talk on "History as Seen Through Early Maps." Neil McCarty will be in charge of the program.

Eight Distance Runners Win Sport's 1st Letters at KHS

Kaukauna—Eight members of the Kaukauna High school cross country team earned letters this year, the first time such letters were awarded since the athletic council approved the activity as a major sport.

Bruce Vanevenhoven was named captain for the 1958 season and Ed Vanden Heuvel, the only senior on the squad, was named the most valuable for 1958. Boys earning letters this year included Harry Gast, captain, Bruce Vanevenhoven, Jerry Jaki, Roger Nussbaum, Merle Hammond, Ed Vanden Heuvel, Milo Straus, and Norman Mieke. Dick Spaulding, manager, also received a letter.

Other members of the varsity were Mark Asman and Ron Busse but the boys failed to pick up enough points to gain a monogram. Members of the B-squad were Bill Borchardt, John Borree, Steve Brem, Bill Conrad, Ed Koberlein, Jerry Kern, Mike Landerman, Steve Meyer, Mark Oliva, Dennis Priebe, Charles Schmidt, Larry Shuron, Dick Smits, Leigh Wachel, Leroy Weyenberg and Jim Zuelzke.

Season's Record The barriers, coached by Harold Kohn, had an excellent record in league competition but ran into trouble in the conference and state meets. Kaukauna opened with a win over Two Rivers and then won a triangular test from Shawano and Appleton. The

Public Hearing On '59 Budget At Kimberly

Village Board To Act on Proposed Figures Tonight

Kimberly — The public hearing on the proposed budget for 1959 will be held at 7 p.m. tonight at the village hall.

For the sixth straight year the board proposes a tax rate of $39 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

The budget for 1959 will be $590,670, an increase of $70,527 over this year. Total budget this year was $519,143.

Valuation Increase The tax rate is proposed at the same amount for next year because increases in assessed valuation, brought about chiefly by new home construction, enables the village to meet the increased cost of operations without hiking the rate.

The proposed rate will bring in $375,762 and the rest of the money needed to operate the village will come from other revenues. This year the village received $355,998 from property taxes.

Revenues other than property taxes were $183,145 and the 1959 budget shows that they are expected to be $163,908, only a slight increase. There is a general surplus fund of $50,000 which the village has invested in securities.

Third meet was also a triangular test with Kaukauna downing Neenah and Appleton. The runners then defeated Shawano and New London in a triangular test, followed by another triangular win over Two Rivers and New London. The final two dual meets had Kaukauna defeat Two Rivers and then take a narrow decision over Appleton.

In Mid-East conference competition Kaukauna finished third with Nussbaum, Hammond, Ed Vanden Heuvel, Jerry Jaki and Straus scoring points. In state competition among medium schools with 133 boys running, Kaukauna finished eighth as Bruce Vanevenhoven, Jaki, Nussbaum, Hammond and Ed Vanden Heuvel scored points.

The B-squad had a record of two wins and one defeat as it downed Appleton twice and then lost to the Seymour High school A-squad.

Professor Advises Youth to 'Use Self in Public Good'

District Rally at Kaukauna Attracts About 175 Pupils

Kaukauna — "Burn, use and squander yourself in the public good," should be the guiding principle in life, approximately 175 youth were told by George Walters, director of education at Lawrence college, as he addressed the fifth district youth conference at Kaukauna High school Saturday.

Walters in the keynote address advised youth they could grow only in sacrifice and the greatest tragedy that could happen would be to die without finding the light which our Creator had given us. Each has something special to give, said the speaker, but to save it is to rot with it, to keep it is to lose it. In a sense it is necessary to lose life to find it, said Walters.

The imprisoned are those on the sidelines and exploiters will never be creators, said the speaker.

Other Speakers The morning program opened with the Rev. Stanley Kolbusz, assistant pastor at Holy Cross, reading the invocation. Members of Cub Scout den 9, Pack 27, presented colors while the national anthem was sung. Adrian McGrath was at the organ. Welcomes were extended by Julian Bichler, high school principal, and T. H. Boebel, superintendent of schools. Robert Waukau, Neopit, fifth district chairman, presided.

Introductions and announcements were made by Florence Schmidt, student council president, and Carol Ashauer, youth center president at Kaukauna High.

Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon spoke a welcome and advised students, "on what they do with their lives today will depend the world of tomorrow."

While the world is entering the advanced period of science and emphasis is put on weapons of destruction, we look to the youth of today for peace and as saviors of the world, he said.

Advising them to work together as a team and to assume responsibilities, Bayorgeon urged youth to strive to make all types of living better. "As youth makes goodness, youth spreads goodness," concluded Bayorgeon.

The morning section of the program concluded with county caucuses, a luncheon presided over by Barbara Buth, Shawano, vice chairman of the fifth district, an invocation by the Rev. Paul Stevens, Methodist church pastor, and entertainment by Charles Tafs and Jack Bylow of Neenah.

A program entitled "Youth serves—by sharing with youth from other lands" was presented. Foreign exchange students participating in this included John Buboltz, Aage Fredenslund, Camal Cavina, Norberto Vanoncini and Mary Metzger. Countries represented were Brown, Deer, Kewanee, Marinette, Oconto, Outagamie and Shawano.

City vehicles have been equipped with plows, put in good running condition and are standing by for the first snow fall. Barrels containing a mixture of salt and sand have been placed in strategic places throughout the city especially at intersections or hills where vehicles usually run into difficulty on packed snow or ice.

A large stockpile of salt and sand has been prepared for use in sanding streets. The material is also available for home owners who may need it for slippery walks. Snow fences have been erected in places where snow tends to drift across roadways.

Library Board Term Expires at Kimberly

The 3-year term will be filled at the regular village board meeting Dec. 1.

Board to Meet

Little Chute — The village board will hold a regular meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the village hall.

The second workshop "Youth Serves — Not as a 'Bookworm' But" which told how youth could better serve his school by taking part in clubs, student council, sports and service projects. Panelists were Peter Peckham, Appleton; James Bohan, Marinette and Karen Krumm, Kaukauna.

Third Workshop "Youth Serves — Law and His Community" was the title of the third workshop. Students discussed how youth and adults together can serve their community by striving for less delinquency. Other topics considered included law enforcement, hot rod clubs, drag strips and other phases of interest which needed law enforcement. Panelists included Robert Waukau, Neopit; Patricia Zahorik, DePere; Diane O'Dell, Kaukauna, and Robert Roemer, Appleton.

The fourth workshop was "Youth Serves — His Family and His Church." Youngsters discussed how youth could serve his family by doing his part in making the house a home and how youth can find a place of service in his church. Panel members were Barbara Buth, Shawano; Janice Feld, Algoma; Gene Simon, Green Bay, and Barbara Boyd, Kaukauna.

The final panel was "Youth Serves — By Being Tops in His Teens." This included a discussion of the physical and mental fitness of youth, personality development and how to achieve popularity. Panel members were Sharon Cox, Neopit; Bonnie Barlow, Appleton; Lynn Pechman, Kaukauna, and Carol Capelle, Green Bay.

Adult specialists in specific fields sat in on each session, and were available for any questions which youth might want answered. A total of 16 adults participated in the sessions.

Officers Elected Officers were elected and a dance and social hour held to conclude the day's activities. About 40 students and adults combined to plan and organize the full day of activities.

Buster Buth, Shawano, was named chairman to succeed Robert Waukau, Neopit; Pete Peckham, Appleton, was named vice chairman, Patricia Ainsworth, Shawano, was named recording secretary and Karen Krumm, Kaukauna, was named corresponding secretary and treasurer. ## Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to "shrink" hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place. This most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months! In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body. This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.* Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. *Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

5 Killed in 3-Car Crash At Eau Claire

45, Crandon, and James H. Michaels, 19, rural Green Bay.

Texas Smashup

In the Texas collision, Percy Garner, funeral home operator here, said four of the dead were children and seven were members of the same family.

State Highway Patrolman R. H. Vinyard of Center, Texas, said the family was taken to a hospital in Shelby county.

San Augustine County

Sheriff E. C. Nichols said about six feet over the center line it had just topped a little hill on a straight stretch of road. The car applied its brakes for about 45 feet. The truck Vinyard said Charles was driving didn't apply his brakes and Maurice was taken to a hospital in critical condition.

Garner Funeral home identified the dead as Charles McClellan, about 33, in the pickup, and these persons in the car: Ralph Lee Reed, about 28, his wife, about 18, and their infant child, about three months, all of Tenaha, Texas. Mrs. Johnnie Mae McCollister, about 35, of Center, Texas, and four of her children including 2-month-old twins, a girl 6 and a boy 7, and James Rayson, 24, Shelbyville, Texas.

Maurice McClellan, about 28, his wife, about 18, and their infant child, about three months, all of Tenaha, Texas. Mrs. Johnnie Mae McCollister, about 35, of Center, Texas, and four of her children including 2-month-old twins, a girl 6 and a boy 7, and James Rayson, 24, Shelbyville, Texas.

38, was taken to Charity hospital in Shreveport, La., with serious injuries. The only other survivor of the crash, Margaret Ann Dodd, about 5, was hospitalized in San Augustine. She is a daughter of Mrs. McCollister by a previous marriage.

10 in Automobile

Vinyard said the auto, containing 10 persons, was driven by Ralph Reed of Tenaha. Nichols said all involved were Negroes.

"It was the type of wreck that you can't figure out what happened," Nichols said. "The people in the auto stopped and bought soda pop at a San Augustine filling station just a few minutes before the crash. They said something about being on a trip and as, said the family was taken to a hospital in Shelby county."

Both Drivers Killed

"The pickup truck was about six feet over the center line it had just topped a little hill on a straight stretch of road. The car applied its brakes for about 45 feet. The truck Vinyard said Charles was driving didn't apply his brakes and Maurice was taken to a hospital in critical condition."

The drivers of both cars were dead under the steering wheels. There were two little children out on the ground," he said. "The sheriff said there was no sign of drinking and that while rain fell intermittently during the night, the highway was dry when he got to the scene of the wreck, just before 1 a.m."

Vinyard estimated the speed of each vehicle at about 70 miles an hour. A hospital here said a little girl, Marjorie Dodd, believed from Center, was brought in with a broken collar bone and other undetermined injuries. Garner said nine were killed almost instantly and one, Eva Jones, identified as the Dodd girl's grandmother, died at the hospital.

2 Americans, Among 23 New Cardinals

Montini, dynamic 61-year-old archbishop of Milan, who at one time was considered by many a likely prospect to succeed Pope Pius.

Pope Pius in 1953 had wanted to name both Msgrs. Taradini and Montini to the college of cardinals, but both asked that the honor be deferred so that they could continue to work closely with the pontiff.

Other Italians nominated were Msgrs. Cicognani, Giobbe, Giovanni Urbani, 58, who succeeded Pope John as Patriarch of Venice; Giuseppe Fielti, 75, apostolic nuncio to Italy; Fernando Cento, 75, apostolic nuncio to Portugal; Carlo Chiarlo, 77, titular archbishop of Amida; Carlo Confalonieri, 65, secretary of the congregation for seminaries and universities; Alfonso Castaldo, 68, archbishop of Naples; Albert di Jorio, general auditor of the apostolic chancery; Francesco Bracci, secretary of the congregation of sacramental discipline; Francesco Roberti, secretary of the congregation of the council.

Throughout the 19-year-reign of the late Pope Pius there had been speculation that he might increase the size of the college of cardinals to cope with the increasing administrative problems of the expanding church. Many of the present 52 cardinals are aged and infirm, and their average age is 73.

When the number of cardinals was set at 70, the total world population was 360 million. Today there are nearly 500 million Roman Catholics. The new cardinals were notified of their designation by mail several days ago, the Vatican said.

Pope John's call of a consistory so soon after his coronation on Nov. 4 came as no surprise. The vigorous new pontiff had been expected to act quickly to strengthen his administration.

However, his call for the cardinals to gather this soon after the conclave put a heavy strain on the elderly and the ailing in the ranks of the college.

Almost all of them have returned to their homes—some of them thousands of miles away—since they elected the pontiff. They now face the trip back to Rome in less than a month.

Even before the announcement of the pre-Christmas consistory, Pope John had made one nomination for elevation to the purple.

As customary, at the end of the conclave which elected him pope, he put his own zucchetto on the head of Msgr. Di Jorio, who had served as secretary of the conclave. That represented the pope's promise to give him the gallero, or cardinal's red hat.

The 23 named today by the pope are nominees, or cardinals-designate.

Although the pope alone has full power to create cardinals, he usually does so in secret consistory and with the formal consent of the sacred college.

World War IV Weapon Used to Kill Cats At World War III Post

Edwards, Calif. — The air force used an unusual ballistic missile to get rid of two bobcats who moved onto a jet fuel tank at Edwards Air Force base.

The missile was an arrow. The launching apparatus was a bow.

Airman James R. Moore, an amateur archer, was called in because rifle shots might have killed the bobcats, all right—but could also have touched off the fuel tank.

Moore's first arrow, launched from 25 yards, killed one bobcat. The other was nicked by the second arrow and bounded off into the surrounding desert.

Military Coup Taking Over Sudan Control

agreement would be ready for ratification by that time.

Abboud's military coup upset one of the few parliamentary democracies left in the Middle East. Sudan obtained independence from joint British-Egyptian control Jan. 1, 1956, and since then had maintained a parliamentary system. The government had sided consistently with the west and frequently had been embroiled in disputes with Nasser's regime.

Like other military chiefs who have seized power in the Middle East and Asia recently, Abboud accused his country's political leaders of corruption and dissension which had hamstrung government operations. His radio statement said:

"You should all know to what extent our country has reached in corruption. It has reached into government machinery and all authorities without exceptions. All this is due to a political crisis which stands between all political parties."

"As to the U. A. R.," he continued, "we shall do our best to improve relations between the two countries, to solve all pending problems and remove fabricated dissension."

Khalil became prime minister in July, 1956, when his umma party formed a coalition with the peoples' democratic party to bring down the old cabinet of pro-Egyptian Ismail Azhari.

In elections last spring the umma won the biggest bloc of seats in parliament and Khalil again formed a government.

There has been no individual head of state or president in the Sudan, but a sovereignty council made up of elder statesmen has functioned pending the drafting of a constitution.

Doctors Seek Result of Boy's Handling Radium

Tyler, Texas — Johnny Pierce, 19, remained in a hospital today while doctors tried to determine what effect handling a radium needle will have on him.

Doctors feared he may suffer severe after effects.

Pierce, an amateur scientist, told a doctor last week he had been exposed to radiation. At first he said he was exposed to cobalt 60, which would have meant he spread a trail of radioactivity around this east Texas town.

But Atomic Energy commission investigator said Pierce's story didn't fit the evidence. Pierce admitted taking a radium needle from a hospital where he worked as a student X-ray technician.

While the radium may have injured Pierce, officials said he could not have spread that type of radioactivity.

Swimmer Watches From Buoy During Rescue Operation

Los Angeles — They thought he was dead. But Don Cooper was watching from a buoy as coast guardsmen gave up a search for him and returned to their base. Cooper, 26, was one of four men aboard a small boat swamped by heavy seas off Los Angeles harbor Saturday. He gave his life jacket to a companion and swam for shore, eight miles away.

Tiring, he climbed on a buoy off the harbor and waited to be saved. Searchers picked up his three companions but didn't see Cooper. So Cooper swam to shore yesterday, hours after being reported missing and presumed drowned.

This man needs help...

If you are like this man, over the years you have probably purchased a variety of Life Insurance policies for varying amounts, with different beneficiaries and varying methods of settlement.

At the time you bought each policy, its purpose was clear. However, looked at today, in the light of changing conditions, do these policies still do the job you intended them to do? The answer to that question calls for a study of your program.

The Metropolitan has a brochure available which will help you get your program under control and up to date, so that it will always be easy to review and understand.

Called "MY LIFE INSURANCE

PROGRAM," it is a loose-leaf booklet, custom-made to your needs by the man especially trained to do the job—your Metropolitan Representative. Here is what it contains:

1. A calendar showing the premium due dates on all your policies.
2. Basic data on your policies and how their benefits are to be paid.
3. A detailed estimate of what you and your family can expect from Social Security and what retirement benefits you can expect from both your Social Security and your Life Insurance.
4. A detailed description with charts showing exactly what your dependents will have from insurance and Social Security in the event of your death.

In other words, this brochure organizes all the necessary information about your Life Insurance program in one readily available source.

It will tell you what your situation is now and where you will stand at any given time in the future.

Your Metropolitan Representative will prepare this valuable record for you, with no obligation on your part.

Two Children Burned In Fire At Green Bay

Green Bay—Two small children were burned seriously Sunday in an explosion of gasoline fumes in the basement of their home. A resulting fire caused damage of about $300 to the house.

Susan La Fontaine, 4, was burned on both legs from the thighs down and her two-year-old brother, Randall, was burned on both arms and shoulders and the sides of his face. They were taken to St. Vincent hospital.

Susan and Randall are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence La Fontaine.

The fumes came from an empty gasoline can. Firemen said they did not know what set off the blast, but said the vapor might have been ignited by a pilot light of the gas furnace in the basement.

Gordon W. Kachur's Car Goes Off Curve, Hits Power Pole

Menasha — Gordon W. Kachur, 19, 337 Lisbon avenue, was severely injured when his car went off Beck's curve Power company said.

on County Trunk P in the town of Menasha at 10:11 a.m. Sunday, smashed through a power pole and rolled over.

The youth was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital in Larry's ambulance. He received a fractured left shoulder, broken bones in both legs, lacerations of the nose, left ear and chin and contusions about the head.

Winnebago county sheriff's police were unable to question him because of his dazed condition. A witness said the youth passed him, traveling northeast on P at a high rate of speed. The witness also said he saw Kachur's brake lights go on but the car failed to round the corner, hit the pole and rolled over.

Mercury vapor lights have been installed at Highway 10 (Oneida street) and the old Manitowoc road.

The installation is the 83rd of 84 which the Menasha town board ordered in the last 1 1/2 years, Wisconsin Michigan Power company said.

Later this month the intersection at Highways 10 and 114 (Waverly Beach) will be lighted with four mercury lamps, the company said.

Earlier, the town board ordered the lights for 42 locations along Highway 47 south of the Appleton city limits, Lakeview mill, eight on Midway road, two at Winnebago Trunks AP and P and singles at Highway 10 and AP, Highway 47 and AP.

Appleton Hunter, Object of Search, Drifts to Shore

Oshkosh — Unable to see the beacon light on top of the tavern at Richter's Bay, Oshkosh H. Miller, 70, 508 N. Oneida street, Appleton, let his boat drift to shore near County Trunk B near Winneconne Sunday night.

Miller was object of a search on Lake Poygan after Warden Al Dunham reported to the sheriff's department that Miller had gone hunting and failed to return. Deputies were searching the area where Miller was supposed to be hunting when Mrs. Dunham signalled them to return to shore.

Miller told the searchers that it got foggy about 4 p.m. so he picked up his decoys and started for shore. He said he couldn't see the beacon light, became lost and allowed the boat to drift. He went to a nearby home and called his wife.

Miller suffered no ill effects.

A breakdown by age groups shows 77 per cent of kindergarten children have three shots, compared with 62 per cent last year; 75 per cent of elementary youngsters, compared with 54 per cent; 69 per cent of junior high students, compared with 36 per cent; and 55 per cent of senior high pupils, compared with 11.5 per cent last year.

The survey of all public and parochial school students was conducted at the request of the Appleton Board of Health.

Shot Chum, Boy Says

DePere Youth Wounded by Shotgun Blast

Post-Crescent News Service

DePere — John Stoddard, 13, who was wounded seriously by a shotgun blast Sunday, said he was shot when he dropped the gun, but a companion told police later he was holding the weapon when it discharged.

John was rushed to a Green Bay hospital for emergency surgery. The shooting occurred in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Stoddard, who were working at the time. The father is a guard at the state reformatory near here. The mother is a waitress.

DePere police, in answering a call for help, found John hunched beside a telephone in his home. The boy told Police Chief Hubert Vaessen he was alone when he dropped the gun and it discharged. John said he made the telephone call for help.

About an hour later, another 13-year-old boy walked into the police station with his 29-year-old brother and said he was holding the gun when it went off.

The boy said he telephoned Green Bay for an ambulance and a physician, ran from the Stoddard home to his own and then to his brother's house.

Green Bay police confirmed the boy had phoned for an ambulance. The request was turned over to DePere police.

Leak Isn't Always Leak, Haggerty Says

Washington — James Haggerty, White House press secretary, says he sometimes "leaks" news to the press but prefers to call it something else.

In a filmed television program yesterday, Haggerty said he used the term "background stories" for the information he sometimes gave segments of the press.

The press secretary had been asked by British Journalist Malcolm Muggeridge: "Can you say with your hand on your heart that you never deliberately arranged a leak?"

"Of course I can't and I wouldn't," Haggerty replied, adding:

"Now, it's your definition of what you call a leak, and I think we might be arguing over the words here."

Then Haggerty said leaks by certain members of the government, whom he did not name, had added "some more gray hairs to my head." Other disclosures of information, he said, actually were background stories.

"In other words, when you leak, it's a background story," Muggeridge said, "and when someone else does it, it's a leak."

"Well, that's the way it's applied," Haggerty answered, "at least in the newspaper business here in Washington."

On the intercontinental program, Haggerty spoke from Washington while Muggeridge spoke from London. Also on the program was Jacques Soustelle, French minister of information, who spoke from Paris.

Reservations can be made until Tuesday with F. A. Nich-French minister of information, 445 E. Cecil street, Neenah.

In addition, there are eight miscellaneous uses for old playing cards. ## Three Ways to Tell If Cake Well-Baked

Perfume One of Most Important Parts of Woman's Grooming

New York — "One of the most important parts of a woman's grooming is perfume," says Edouard Courmand. "You cannot be well groomed without fragrance." Mr. Courmand may be prejudiced. By virtue of his position as top salesman for a big Paris perfume company, however, he's a qualified expert in giving advice to the American woman about the best use of the product. "Perfume is a manufacturer's have given out so many complicated stories about perfume," he says unhappily. "They've invented all kinds of strange stories about body chemistry. And they keep emphasizing that perfume is rare, costly, a treasure. All this has discouraged women—American women—from using as much perfume as they should."

Actually, says Courmand, the best way to use perfume is as a spray, and the best place to spray it is on the hair. Largely Alcohol "Perfume is largely alcohol," he explains. "And when you spray it on the hair you are spraying on a wide surface. That allows the alcohol to evaporate rapidly and leave the concentrate. It is the same on fur. And don't let anybody tell you that any perfume was deliberately developed for furs."

Courmand adds, however, that there are other good spots for the administration of the extract: behind the ears, on the wrists. The proper administration of perfume is completely purposeful, he insists. "The use of perfume on the wrist or at the elbow came about quite naturally — in many parts of the world, it was customary for a gentleman to kiss the hand of a lady. And of course, it is logical to put it at the ear. When you are interested in a woman, you want to come close to her—and the more interested you are, the closer you come. You want to look in her eyes. You want to hold her close—to dance with her. So, then it is good—for kissing and dancing—to have perfume where it is of some practical use."

Main Types Courmand says there are good uses for the three main types of perfumes — cologne, toilet water and extract. The first is merely for a pleasant brief odor; cologne is principally alcohol with a mere suggestion of fragrance. Next strongest — eau de toilet — is for use after the bath — about the neck and shoulders. And then there is the concentrate — this is the powerful stuff to be sprayed on the hair and dabbed on ears and wrists and elbows. "One of the reasons that Americans use so little perfume is that manufacturers have been trying to hint — but never to say — that perfume is an aphrodisiac," said. "What kind of an idea is that? Let's say you are going to be a weekend guest. Would you want to bring your hostess a bottle of aphrodisiac?" "Actually, perfume is like champagne — it is something that emphasizes your mood, excites the nervous senses. But an ugly woman can wear all the perfume in the world and she will still be ugly."

What kind of a perfume should a woman choose? "What she likes," says Courmand firmly. "And she should wear it as long as she likes. However, if she goes in for horseback or tennis, I think she should have two kinds — one for the sport outdoors, and then her regular variety."

Ideas For Mirror "Magicians"

Vast Selection of Davenport, Fireplace, and Door Mirrors. Also Custom Mirror Work DONE PROMPTLY

Mirrors can be used in ever so many miraculous ways to do wonders in a home. Perhaps these few suggestions, which just skim the surface of possibilities, will inspire you to think of ingenious ways to use mirrors effectively in your home.

Small Rooms

seem larger. Mirrors open up a room and create new vistas. If your room is long and narrow, widen it by using a mirror.

Brighten a Hall . . .

If you have a blank wall at the rear of your hallway, mirror it and see it spring to life. Also, it gives a tip-toe view of your attire. A large mirror hung above a table is an alternative.

In the Bedroom . . .

Mirror the wall behind your bed from floor to ceiling. Or the wall opposite your bed, if you prefer. The effect is luxurious and, by multiplying each unit of furniture, you obtain the fullest effect. Aside from that, where else are big mirrors more utilitarian than for dressing?

Remember at HOFFERS you get the finest in quality and workmanship. Only select Mirror Quality Plate Glass can give you distortion-free reflections.

Low priced mirrors offered in many places are only sheet glass — which is not sensitized to receive long lasting silver nor is the glass distortion-free. Get a Selected PLATE GLASS Mirror at

Newlyweds Need Secluded First Home Away From In-Laws

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: My fiancé and I are having a little problem, and we need some advice from a disinterested party. He just returned from the service and we plan to marry right before Christmas. We've been saving our money but there isn't Ann Landers enough for a down payment on a house we'd care to buy.

My parents have offered to build a kitchenette next to the den and convert that space into a little apartment for us. We could live there free as long as we wanted. I believe this is a very generous offer and want to accept it. My fiancé is against it. Both my parents are a little hurt over his attitude. Is my future husband being foolish? What do you say?—December Bride

Your future husband is far from foolish. He's on very solid ground. Every newly-married couple is better off in their private little haven, even if it's a broom closet over a boiler factory. It's much easier to resolve those first year arguments out of ear-shot of relatives. Believe me, there's no place like home—your own, that is.

DEAR ANN: What do you think about a husband who starts to call his wife "Mama"? My own opinion is that love has gone out the window when they drop the first name.

When I mentioned this to my husband he said I was 10,000 per cent wrong. Am I? How about it? I would like your honest opinion. — Florence

Dear Florence: Forgive me for resorting to an intimate personal example to illustrate the point, but your letter stirred up some pleasant memories. My own wonderful parents were married more than 35 years before death separated them. I never once remember hearing my mother or father call one another by their given names. It was always "Mama" and "Papa".

So you see, I'm with your husband 10,000 per cent. And thank you for writing. I particularly enjoyed answering your letter.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our daughter was an honor student, homecoming queen and extremely popular. She married the son of a clergyman two years ago and everyone said it was an ideal match.

Yesterday she told me something shocking. I'm still stunned as I write this letter. I can't speak to our minister because he's our son-in-law's father.

It seems my daughter and her husband had a spat on their honeymoon. He has bolted her out of the bedroom ever since that night. She wept uncontrollably when she told me she's been sleeping on the couch in the living room for two years.

She's begged him to see a doctor or a marriage counselor but he refuses. He says he's perfectly content with things as they are.

My daughter is no Marilyn Monroe when it comes to looks, but she's attractive and full of life. I am heartsick over this. What should be done? — Grieving Mother

If your son-in-law were married to Marilyn Monroe he'd lock her out, too. He's sick. Your daughter should not punish herself with notions that she's a failure because the trouble is with him not her.

The poor fellow was probably reared with distorted notions about sex. These twisted ideas have produced guilt feelings which make a normal married relationship impossible. He undoubtedly picked the fight on the honeymoon to provide an excuse for not living up to his marital obligations.

Your daughter's marriage is a mockery and a shell. She has a right to insist that her husband see a doctor and make an effort to get straightened around. If he refuses she should see a clergyman (not her father-in-law) and learn if her denomination offers a religious annulment, then visit an attorney and make it legal.

Fine Cashmeres Need Pampering, Gentle Care

Those fine cashmere sweaters that are the pride of every woman deserve special care—but you can keep them fresh and new looking with gentle sudsing, if you know how.

There's a tendency among many women to send expensive sweaters to the dry cleaner rather than risk home washing, but recent tests show that this is not necessary, if the sweaters are handled correctly. Here's how:

Either cashmeres or fine woolen knits need some pampering. They should be hand-washed in lukewarm suds—never hot water. The new cold-water soaps made especially for woolens keep the garments soft and fluffy.

Use about twice as much soap as you would for ordinary laundry and squeeze suds gently through the sweater—never rub or twist.

To keep the sweater from stretching out of shape, hold it under the surface of the water as you squeeze the suds through it. Wash quickly. Never submit fine knitwear to long soaking.

Rinse several times in clear lukewarm water until all suds are removed. Lift the dripping garment carefully out of the water and roll it in a bath towel to blot out excess water.

Then lay the sweater flat on another dry towel and with your hands, gently pat and smooth it into shape. Let dry away from heat.

There are other ways to insure that the sweater retains its original size and shape. There are metal frames available to slip inside the damp garment.

Or you can make your own frame of heavy cardboard, on which you have traced the outline of the sweater before washing. Make three pieces—one for the body and two for the sleeves.

Never hang up fine knit garments. Dry them flat, and store them flat in a drawer. Clear plastic bags are useful to protect them from dust.

Culbertson on Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

South's leap to game in the bidding of the following deal will look outrageously risky to many readers, but there was substantial logic in his action.

South, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

NORTH

SOUTH

D-A K Q J 7 3
C-A 10 5

The bidding (rubber bridge):

South West North East
1 D 1 H Pass Pass
3 N T Pass Pass

Most players, holding South's cards, would not dream of launching out into three no trump, especially after hearing an adverse heart call—their singleton heart would induce them to search almost anywhere else but no trump for a makable game. In this case, however, it is obvious that they would be disappointed.

The actual South player (as he explained later) risked the leap to three no trump largely because he had only one heart! If this seems paradoxical, consider his reasoning. It was unlikely, to start with, that West held a solid heart suit, and since East had remained quiet, there was no indication that he had the heart honors to solidify his partner's suit. In all probability, then, North had some length in hearts, and even as little as the guarded jack might suffice as a stopper.

Finally, there was the chance (which was not nearly as small as one might suppose) that West could be talked out of opening his own suit if South made his huge leap in no trump. Certainly, this leap would sound as though South were expecting the heart lead and was quite prepared for it!

At any rate, South, with eight solid tricks in his own hand, was not satisfied to settle for a part-score, so he took the plunge, and he fulfilled the contract by executing a throw-in play which brought him an extra club trick.

Regal Trend Flourishes as Americans Learn to Curtsy

BY DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Features Writer

Los Angeles —(AP)—The normally casual west coast is breaking out in a rash of protocol, court etiquette and regal ball gowns these days.

California debutantes who know exactly what to do on a golf course or a beach are learning how to curtsy—with some growing pains.

The Los Angeles haute couture is being flooded with orders for formal ball gowns, and the book stores are selling out Emily Post.

It's all because of the impending visit of Queen Frederika and Princess Sophie of Greece, and the imperial ball to be held in Beverly Hills Nov. 22. The same thing, on perhaps a slightly less flurried scale, is taking place in New York in preparation for the east's royal slumgale, slated for Dec. 4, with Prince Ramier and Princess Grace of Monaco as royal guests of honor.

Out here in the free-and-easy west, the girls are taking their curtsy lessons seriously, and there is a rush of business at the salon of Emaline Snively, an expert on such matters, whose business wolf normally is training fashion models. Says she:

"I am amazed at the number of girls, society women, and even movie stars who are taking lessons in curtsy-ing. This graceful womanly gesture has been rather neglected out here in the far west, even in some of our best girls' schools. So they all have to start from scratch, and it's not easy."

Regal Trend

Miss Snively knows a trend when she sees one, and she says this year's trend is definitely regal. She discovered Marilyn Monroe and Jayne Mansfield even before Americans men did, and gave them their first modeling jobs.

"A proper curtsy looks as easy as a whirl by a professional model," says she, "but it takes just about as much mirror drill. Most professional models already know how to curtsy, or are taking lessons. But for the general public, it's a tough job."

Women aren't the only ones having their troubles in preparation for the imperial ball. California men, who prefer to dress in sports coats and slacks, are rushing around ordering white ties and tails, and are being schooled by determined wives in how to wear them.

They also are practicing the court bow, while criticizing their womenfolks' efforts at the curtsy. The regal curtsy, showing proper deference Ann's attack—for instance, as to a royalty, it must be pointed out for the country boy out who has come to the big city, a fedora for the business man and it's much better if you with no time for frivolity, a don't fall down in the process. There hasn't been such a ruckus in these parts, they tell me, since the Prince of Wales made his historic visit to the west coast after World war I.

Ann Sothorn's Advice: Use Hats To Catch Man

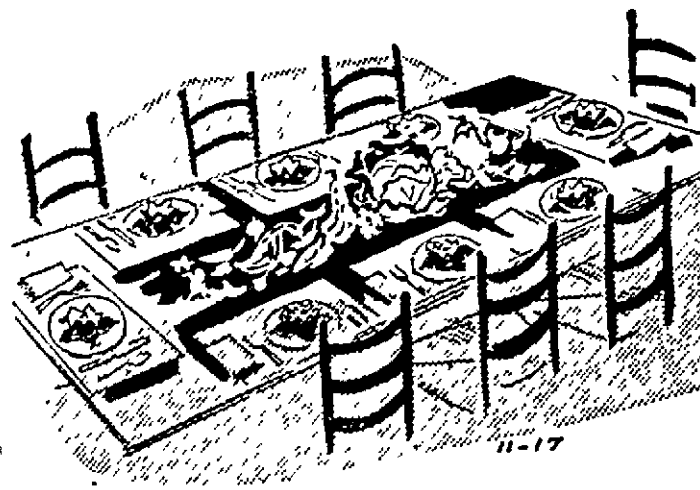

Ann Sothorn who portrays the charming character Katy O'Connor on a TV show, has worked out a millinery attack for the battle of the sexes.

A different chapeau for each chap she wants to trap is, showing proper deference Ann's attack—for instance, as to a royalty, it must be pointed out for the country boy out who has come to the big city, a fedora for the business man and it's much better if you with no time for frivolity, a don't fall down in the process. There hasn't been such a ruckus in these parts, they tell me, since the Prince of Wales made his historic visit to the west coast after World war I.

All added up, Ann says you can use a hat to catch a man, but you have to use your head.

Decoration for Thanksgiving Table

The Thanksgiving centerpiece is best when it arranges the traditional bounty of harvest, simply, and without frills. Choose the most beautiful of fruits and vegetables in the market, with an eye on variety of shape and in the richest colors, and nothing more is needed except autumn leaves and perhaps a few heads of grain. But the way they're arranged makes a big difference. A centerpiece is less of a success than it can be if it's meager in size for the table, and if it's too bunched. The striking centerpiece is large and spreads out so that individual shapes and colors stand out.

For most tables, the centerpiece should be kept low, but it can range from one end of the table to the other, as it does here. A head of green cabbage tinged with red and with the outer leaves curling around it is flanked by only a few large items, a richly purple eggplant, a cream and green stumped gourd, yellow pears — then purple plums, russet grapes, limes, green and yellow leaves and more gourds are brightened by a generous sprinkling of brilliant orange-red peppers. If something must protect the table top, use a flat tray for the heaviest part of the centerpiece and cover it as much as possible.

Our Children

Protect Young Fry From Overlong Day

BY ANGELO PATRI

Some of our children are being taxed beyond their strength by the length of their working day.

One must remember that for small children play is work, obeying is hard work, school is labor, and these little ones are seasoned neither in body nor mind. Their strength is small and their ambitions, great. Their elders must watch over them and protect them from overstrain at this stage of their growth.

Some of our 6-year-old children leave home before 8 o'clock to meet the school bus. They do not get home again until nearer 5 than 4. They have been away from home under more or less pressure, for eight or more hours. It is too much.

4 Hours Maximum

The children in the first years of school, kindergarten and first graders, should have but a four hours school. If an hour of free time for play and rest and lunch is added they may be able to take it but to keep them in school for five and a half hours — No!

Often this long day is to save the expense of a second trip for the bus. That certainly could be prevented by other means than that of holding the children in school. Even if it means that the mothers pool their cars and take their children home after the morning session it can be done.

The consolidated school has its good points. It offers a richer program, allows more room inside and out for varied activities. It saves the costs of several smaller schools. But would it not be better to keep the younger ones closer to home so they would not have the long bus rides and would not have the long day?

In my opinion the neighborhood school for the children we used to call "primary graders," is much the better plan. These younger ones can do with a closer relationship to their homes and families than they have now. And they will not be overtaxed as some of them are.

Driver Testing Center to Move From City Hall

The state motor vehicle department's driver testing center will be moved from Appleton city hall to 503 N. Richmond street Dec. 3.

Paul McPeck, northeastern Wisconsin driver licensing supervisor, said the move is being made at the request of the city council.

(Councilmen earlier this year agreed to ask the examiners to move from office space to the basement hallway, but temporary storage of voting machines prevented the move.)

The new center will be in the residence at 503 N. Richmond street during winter and will utilize part of the adjacent Veterans of Foreign Wars' hall in the summer when testing increases.

Three uniformed examiners are in Appleton two days a week, Wednesdays and Thursdays, from 9 to 11:45 a.m. and from 12:30 to 4:30 p.m.

The examiners gave 313 written and 306 road tests from the Appleton center in October. There were 24 written tests and 81 road test failures, McPeck said.

Tokyo Easiest City in World To Park Auto

Double, Triple, Parking on Narrow Streets Common

Tokyo —(AP)—Tokyo, which claims to be the city with the world's worst driving conditions, is probably the easiest city in which to park a car.

If there's no space, you just double park—or triple park.

The metropolitan government says it hopes to change all that by installing parking meters in the downtown area. But snorted one motorist, a non-Japanese.

"If anybody pays any attention to them, it'll be the first effective traffic law the city has ever had."

Driving in the Japanese capital is a horror. The speed limit, ostensibly 25 m.p.h. is governed only by the top speed of the car. Taxi drivers—Japan's unguided ground-to-ground missiles—whip nonchalantly through red lights, and the unwritten rule is that the automobile which is passing has the right of way. Officially, traffic drives on the left, but the usual route is closer to the right.

Add Spice

To add spice to the game, Tokyo's roads are incredibly potholed, and a driver can shatter a spring on almost any main street.

But Japanese driving reaches its peak in the parking system. Double parking, particularly by Tokyo's 126,000 taxis, is illegal but common. Few cars get ticketed. Since many streets are only narrow lanes to begin with this creates a problem.

The latest scheme to combat errant parkers is an embarrassment program, with police pasting big red stickers on illegally-stationed vehicles. No fines or penalties are involved.

"The idea is that the driver will be sufficiently punished by the loss of face he suffers by being publicly demonstrated as a law-breaker," a newspaper explained. The stickers wash off easily.

Meaning of Junior
Dear Mrs. Post: My fiance and I have recently had an argument on the correct use of Jr. He said that if the first name is the same as that of the father, the child is Jr. I have always thought that the full name had to be the same before he was Jr. Does the difference in the middle name have any bearing on the situation?

Answer: Yes it does. Junior means an exact replica of senior, and the suffix is the only way by which one can be distinguished from the other.

Tuxedo For Boy
Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is going to be married next month at an evening wedding. I would like to know if it would be proper for my 13-year-old son to wear a tuxedo. Answer: Let him wear a tuxedo. He is much too young to appear in a tail coat and white tie.

In Good Taste Guest Reply Depends on Invitation

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: Recently I gave a tea at my house to introduce my new daughter-in-law to my friends. The invitations were informal, personal notes. Because to my mind a request for a reply is almost as insulting as asking people to behave correctly, I omitted any such request and later had reason to regret it. While a great many of the guests did reply, there were quite a few who did not. I heard later that those who sent no reply did not think it was necessary because I did not ask for one. Am I wrong in thinking that any invitation deserves the courtesy of a reply whether one is asked for or not? Just to clear up this point in my mind, will you be good enough to enlighten me?

Answer: If your personal notes began, "Will you come..." they required answers just as surely as any invitation with r.s.v.p. Invitations on which your name is engraved to a reception, afternoon tea or a cocktail party,

Snowball Fight At 88 Above

Tampa, Fla.—Two teenagers were taken to the police station for throwing snowballs yesterday—when the temperature reached a record 88 degrees.

An officer herded the two 14-year-olds—a boy and a girl—to the station after they became a little too exuberant in a 3-foot pile of artificial snow on Tampa's main downtown street.

Long-Time Employees
Honored as long-time employees were Mrs. Jeanette Polier, Anthony Rubsam, Frederick Stoeger, Miss Christine DeYoung, Miss Anne Verkuilen and Miss Agnes Moerchen.

Dr. George T. Hegner was master of ceremonies. A history of the hospital was presented by Dr. William J. Frawley.

Another part of the program included presentation of a car to the sisters of St. Elizabeth by members of the medical staff and friends of the hospital. Presenting the auto were Mrs. W. Clay Cloud, 1524 Riverview lane, and Mrs. Victor W. Bloomer, 715 W. Fifth street.

Sister M. Salome, administrator, said the hospital also will be open today for those unable to attend the open house Sunday.

town street. He said they were having a snowball fight and Christmas lane. By Wednesday it will fill five full blocks astray, threatening passersby to a depth of four feet, with ice-blowing trucks creating a steady "blizzard."

The officer said he warned them several times to control themselves and finally hauled them in. They later were released to their parents.

At the time the snow covered a quarter-block area on Christmas lane, it was a good day for the Tampa Christmas snow show, a project sponsored by downtown merchants to stimulate Yuletide spirit and business.

Personal Civil Defense

What Each of Us Can Do To Protect Our Families

BY JACK GLASNER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

There are some basic things each person can do to insure survival in an emergency.

Civil defense has a watchword which goes something like this — if you never have to use the things you learn through civil defense, you have lost nothing; if you don't know the things you must in an emergency, you may lose everything.

Every family should have at least one member trained in first aid — the Red Cross offers courses in first aid. Each family should have a first aid kit and a 5-day supply of food on hand so they can be placed in a car if evacuation is ordered. Every family's car should have at least a half-full tank of gasoline. Each family should have a battery-powered radio to listen to Conelrad instructions.

Women should learn to keep house in a car — they may find it home for their family for weeks.

Food Supply

Housewives should have at least a 14 day supply of food on hand in their homes at all times. If an attack comes, there will be rationing and interruption of food distribution. It also is extremely probable that public water supplies may be contaminated, so water should be kept on hand. It can be cold packed just as canned goods are.

Here is a list of foods which can be used as a basis for building a 2-week supply for your family. The amounts listed are for one adult for seven days.

Milk—one package of powdered nonfat dry and two 14 oz. cans of evaporated.
Juices—46 oz. cans of tomato, orange and grapefruit.
Fruits—46 oz. cans of peaches and pears and a pound of dried plums or apricots.
Vegetables—two 16 oz. cans of tomatoes and peas, 12 to 16 oz. can of corn and a 16 oz. can of green beans.
Soup—four 10½ oz. cans of assorted kinds.
Meats and substitutes—pound cans of beef stew, salmon, spaghetti and meat balls and baked beans, small jars of cheese and peanut butter.
Cereals—ready to eat types in seven individual packages.
Crackers or cookies—one box or tin.
Beverages—one 2 oz. jar of instant coffee or a 1 oz. jar of tea, a pound package of cocoa.
Soft drink—12 bottles.
In addition, there should be at least a gallon of water. As can be seen from the above list, some of the liquid needs will be furnished by fruit juices and the like. If water is kept in a jar or bottle, it should be changed every six weeks.

For children in the family, simply adjust the amounts of food. For infants, try to figure one day's food supply and multiply it by the 14 days. The list, of course, should be varied for individual family tastes. It is a basic list compiled by civil defense officials to give housewives an idea of food supplies necessary. And don't forget a can opener or two.

First Aid, Too

Here's a list of what you should have in your family's first aid kit:

Antiseptic solution, aromatic sprays of ammonia, table salt, baking soda, 37 by 37 by 72 - inch triangular bandage with two safety pins, medium first aid dressing, small first aid dressing, bottle of eye drops (castor oil), 12 tongue depressor blades, bottle of 100 water purification tablets, two large bath towels, two small bath towels, a bed sheet, 25 to 50 paper drinking cups, a flashlight and spare batteries, 12 to 15 safety pins, three single edge razor blades, a sharp knife or scissors, bar of mild toilet soap, set of measuring spoons and plastic or wooden splints. A thick newspaper rolled up will make an emergency splint.

If supplies such as the ones listed above are maintained, you will have protected your family. The rest is up to you to learn what you can about civil defense techniques.

Here are three booklets which will give you basic information on civil defense. The first is for rural families, but also is informative to anyone.

1. Defense against radioactive fallout on the farm, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Farmers' Bulletin 2107.

2. Family shelters for protection against radioactive fallout, Civil Defense technical bulletin, TB-53 (gives specifications of how to build shelters).

3. Home protection exercises, Civil Defense miscellaneous publication, MP-2-1.

The last booklet is probably the best available for teaching your family what they are to do and for giving each member of the family a specific responsibility.

Where to Order

These booklets often can be obtained from your local civil defense coordinator. If he does not have copies write to Civil Defense, Battle Creek, Mich., for them.

What sort of an emergency are you preparing for?

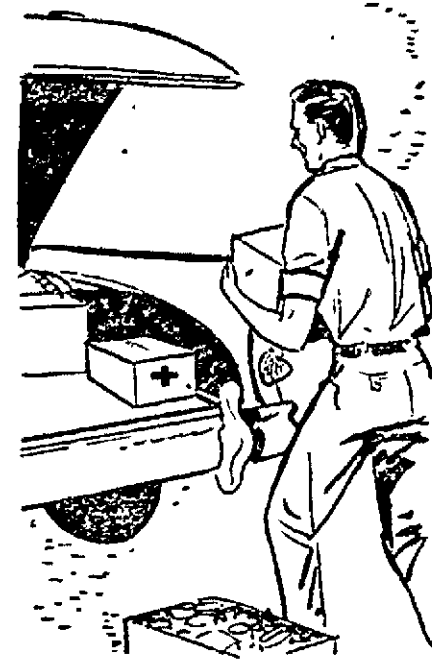

The probability of a deliberate attack in this area is low. But, bombers or missiles with hydrogen warheads may miss their targets and the circle of destruction they cause is 20 miles. If a nuclear device on its way to Chicago falls short, it may well land in this area.

If an attack takes place south of us, we can expect refugees to pour in and consequent dislocation of food distribution, communication and probably city utilities.

Here are Three Steps to safeguard your family for any emergency—civil defense or otherwise. If wives will make up a package of non-perishable foods to feed their family for five days so the package can be put in the car, left, if husbands will get together first aid supplies, center, and if both packages are put in the car, right, your family can survive in the family car. Civil defense has made up a suggested ration for seven days, which is listed in the accompanying article. The food needn't be elaborate and can be adjusted for your family's tastes.

that a blizzard might make of major proportions. your preparations valuable. Remember:

If you never need what you learn what you need in civil defense, you might lose everything.

Four big reasons why FORD IS OUTSELLING ALL OTHER '59 CARS

The world's best-selling car is the car with Thunderbird elegance

In the great styling decision of the year, the American public has already shown a clear preference for the new Fords. Ford sales are way ahead of all competition.

What makes the 59 Ford such an immediate success? One prime reason, heard in showrooms from coast to coast, is "good taste." There is the classic simplicity of the Thunderbird-inspired design—the clear-cut clean lines that are pure automobile.

There is a kind of beautiful good sense, too, in the design of the new Ford that goes far beyond just good looks. Ford cars are built for people—to sit in, to drive, to ride in—with comfort. And a Ford is to enjoy, with smooth quiet power always on demand.

AT THE BRUSSELS WORLD'S FAIR, the 59 Fords were awarded the Gold Medal for styling elegance by the Comité Français de l'Elegance.

The car in hottest demand across the land has greater roominess and comfort

Thousands on thousands of customers have already bought the new Ford over all competition for another compelling reason—it's a true six-passenger car. (The only four-passenger car we recommend is the Thunderbird.) All six passengers in a 59 Ford get plenty of every kind of room—from leg and head to elbow and hip. Rear seat passengers in a Ford don't feel they're riding with their feet in a bucket. And the man in the middle has the same deep, soft cushioning beneath him as the other passengers.

Cars are supposed to be made to get in and out of. Well, Ford makes it real easy for you. Compare for yourself in any showroom. Just get in and out of a Ford with its bigger, wider-opening doors.

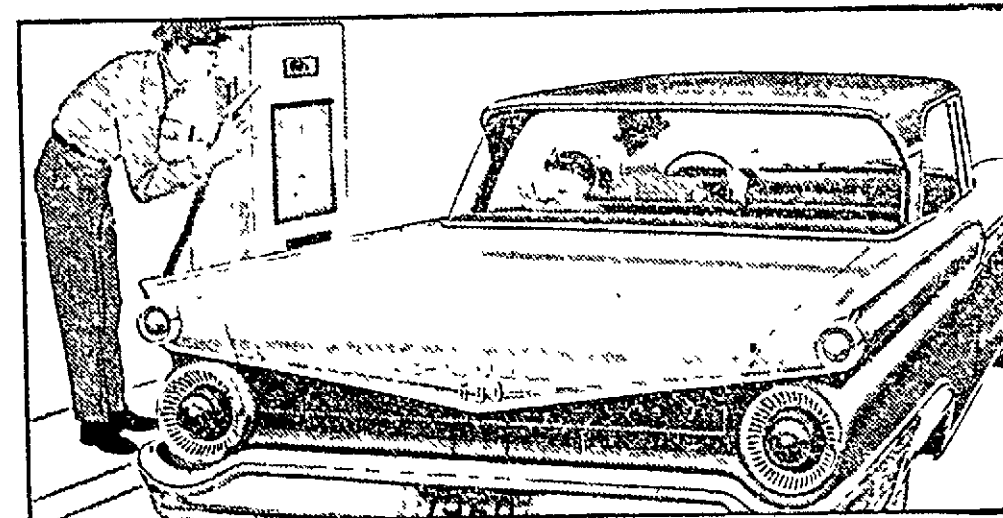

ANYONE CAN FIT IN A FORD: Our cars are built for people—full-size people who want space to stretch out. And all passengers ride in deep-cushion comfort.

The No. 1 car in sales saves money on gas, on oil, on maintenance bills

A new Ford will save you up to 5¢ a gallon on gas . . . a dollar on every tankful! No wonder everyone welcomes the big news that all standard Ford engines, Six and Thunderbird V-8, are engineered to give you powerhouse performance on low-cost regular gas.

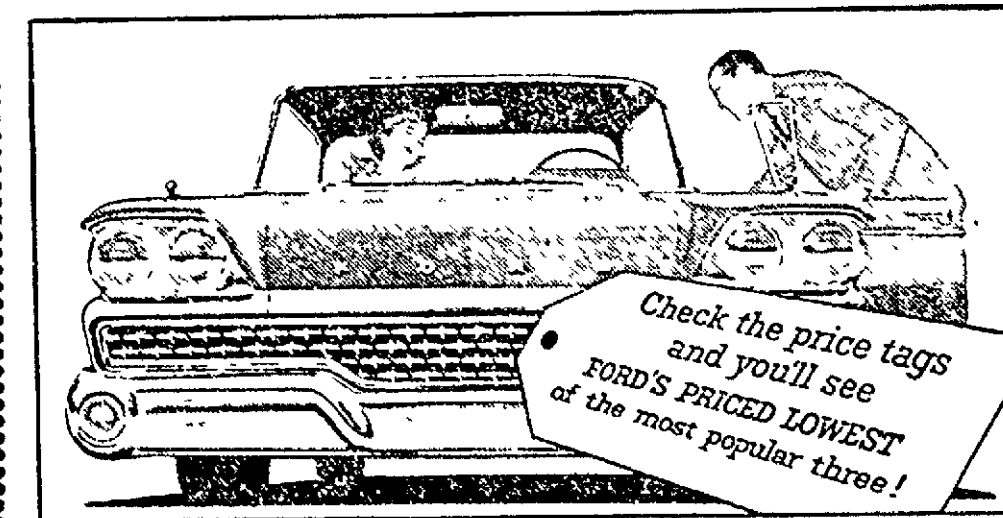

But that's not all—Ford saves you hard cash on oil, too. Every 59 Ford has a Full-Flow Oil Filter as standard equipment. Result: You can drive a full 4000 miles without an oil change. And Ford has ended the old problem of waxing your car. New Diamond Lustre Finish will stay gleaming bright without waxing—ever! This is another Ford First, of the kind your bank account likes.

YOU'LL BE THANKFUL EVERY TANKFUL if you buy the new Ford, for you'll save up to a dollar a tankful with new engines that run superbly on regular gas.

The most popular American car is priced as much as $102.75 lower

Ford costs you less right down the line than the competition. This is a simple fact, if you'll take the time and trouble to shop and compare. All you have to do is look for yourself, and you'll see that the manufacturer's suggested retail price of a Ford, equipped with radio, heater and automatic transmission, is as much as $102.75 less than the major competition! And, if you want an air-conditioned car, you can save up to $219.85. All this means that if you want a car with Thunderbird-inspired styling, really roomy comfort, the firmest, safest ride in its field, great trunk space, and that famous Thunderbird V-8 performance (or the most modern Six in the industry)—all this with hard-cash economy—then the car to buy is the 59 Ford.

THE FAMOUS FORD LOW PRICES have already made a hit, because only in Fords will you find value and beauty coming together at down-to-earth prices!

Sales Center Booked to 1961 For Meetings

Director of K-C Facility Speaks To Neenah Club

Neenah — Kimberly-Clark corporation's sales promotion center is booked solid through the year 1961 and "we just haven't enough days in the year to arrange all the programs, conferences and schools for our own salesmen, our distributor salesmen and our customers," Robert V. Lloyd, director of the center, told the Neenah club this noon.

When the center does have a "free date" on its heavy calendar, there are many of the corporation's own groups waiting in line — as it were — for a departmental meeting or a corporation-wide conference of key personnel, he said. "We squeeze them in when we can."

Increased use of the center for the corporation's over-all sales operations has taken what available time there is, Lloyd mentioned. The center will end the year with 375 group days of operation.

Serve 25,000 Meals It will have had about 6,000 customers, visitors and corporation personnel using its facilities. Its kitchen staff will have served 25,000 meals. Sometimes two or three, occasionally four separate meetings have been taking place in one day and through the evening. Frequently, there are Saturday sessions.

The sales promotion center, to a large extent, represents Kimberly-Clark to its guests, he told the Neenah club.

"Here we sell Kimberly-Clark products, policies, facilities and people to prospects and new customers. Here we provide proper setting for meetings of our salesmen, our distributors, their salesmen and customers so that they may learn about the company, its products and how they are made."

"Our center also provides a training school for new salesmen and other key employee groups."

Lloyd prefaced his discussion on the sales promotion center with remarks about

Need for Adjustments in Farming Told County Group

Oshkosh — The need for adjustments in agriculture was pointed out to 41 Winnebago county farmers at the fourth and final discussion meeting of the farm management short course held Wednesday night at the Elio Grange hall. Speaking to the group were A. O. Follett of the University of Wisconsin extension service and Harold Hutterberg, field man of the Northeastern Wisconsin Farm Management association.

Follett said that unless we make adjustments, we will stay where we are or possibly go backward. Farmers are to make adjustments in ways such as more cattle, more land, other feeding methods and added machinery. It should be remembered that unless machinery releases your time to some other equally productive work, it is not profitable, he said.

Hutterberg asked the farmers present to analyze themselves as they analyze their farms. A farmer should know what part of his farming operation he likes the best and what part he is doing the best in.

In making agricultural adjustments, we must plan if we are going to meet the challenge of the future. Farm goals should be established, he urged. When added farm investments are made, the farmer should consider how much he will receive in return.

Too many times money is tied up in machinery which is used only three days out of the year when it could be spent for equipment which would provide service the year around, he declared.

The county-wide short course on farm management was sponsored by the banks of Winnebago county, Wisconsin telephone company and the county extension service. Farmers who participated in the short course will be guests of the sponsors at a recognition dinner in early December.

bably the most famous of the Winnebago chiefs, according to historians. He was the subject of a famous trial at Prairie du Chien in 1827 where he was charged with leading a party of Indians that scalped two men and a child.

Noble in Appearance History records Red Bird as being "most perfect in form, in face and gesture" with proportions of the most exact symmetry, "a nobly built man of the highest order of intelligence."

He and his accomplice, We-Kau, described by the colonel at the surrender as being "miserable looking, abhorred as one of the most blood-minded of his race" and the one who scalped the child, had voluntarily given themselves up.

Because of "great indignities" and personal violence" upon the Indian group to which Red Bird belonged, the leading chiefs decided upon the Indian law of retaliation. Red Bird was called upon to go out and avenge the tribe. When he did not succeed at first, he was called "coward" and ordered to go out again to redeem his character as a brave.

In his voluntary surrender to American soldiers, rather than have his tribe attacked, Red Bird asked for immediate death. He was full of a proud spirit, the colonel declares, but he was put into prison where he died "of crushed hopes and a broken heart."

Christmas Planning Advice Offered by Two New Books

Menasha — Those who want to start Christmas planning early can receive good advice from Franklin Watts' "The Complete Christmas Book" and Sister M. Gratia Litaite's "A New Look at Christmas Decoration," books now available at the Elisha D. Smith Public library.

According to Librarian Marvin Melick, Watts' book tells how to give, entertain, decorate and celebrate during Yule time while the other work is illustrated with decorations used in many countries.

Christmas humor is provided in Kay Thompson's "Elise at Christmastime." The famous little girl spends her Christmas at the Plaza hotel, New York.

Woman Physicist Creates Vanguard Satellite Cells

BY EDWARD KITCH

Evanston, Ill. — (AP) — Dr. Margaret Arst has more than a passing interest in sunbeams.

They simply brighten the day for most people. For Dr. Arst they are a constant reminder of a vast and practically untapped source of power.

As a senior physicist, she analyzes silicon crystals that convert sunlight directly into electrical energy at a laboratory maintained by the world's largest producer of silicon solar cells.

It is her delicate touch and scientific know how that actually create the material from which the cells are made. Her handiwork is in the Navy's Vanguard satellite now circling the earth. It powers the Vanguard's two radio transmitters.

Made in Furnace "The silicon solar cells we made for the Vanguard satellite and for other uses are made in a 'crystal puller' furnace," she explains.

She designed the furnace which heats the polycrystalline silicon material from 2,600 to 2,800 degrees Fahrenheit, where it forms a single crystal. The silicon comes out of the furnace like a small sausage, and is sliced into wafer thin sections about the size of a quarter. These wafers are treated with boron gas and electrical contact points are made.

"Then, by exposing as much surface as possible to the sun, we obtain solar power supply for various low-power uses," she said.

From Austria Dr. Arst says she was very interested in physics, mathematics and chemistry when she went to high school. Her father was a chemist and her grandfather was an architect. She came to the United States two years ago from Austria.

What about American women and the sciences? "My personal opinion is that every girl should have an education in scientific subjects," she says. "They are really very interesting subjects."

"If a woman does go into this she generally does a good job. For one thing, in research a woman is more patient."

Dr. Arst is married to an electrical engineer and they have one son, 7 months.

Neenah — It's a defiant woman whose skirts still reach midway between her knee and the floor. Gradually the last of the ditches are succumbing to fashion's decree of the short skirt.

For those wondering the exact procedure to follow in shortening last year's wool dress or skirt, Mrs. Jeanette Thomas, Winnebago county assistant home agent, has listed steps for a straight and flared skirt.

The first step is determining how much the skirt must be shortened. If you prefer to wear it three inches shorter, place a row of pins horizontally three inches from the bottom of the skirt. Next, take out the present hem and cut off any excessive material, leaving two inches for the new hem. Be careful when cutting off the material to keep the bottom edge even.

When hemming wool garments, the "trade method" is generally used. This method eliminates bulkiness and therefore gives you a very inconspicuous hemline.

Machine stitch one-fourth inch from the raw edge, if sired, then place another row of machine stitches three-eighth inch from the pinked or raw edge. Turn up the hem two inches and press, using a press cloth. The final step is to hand hem the skirt, catching a few threads on the row of stitching and then catching a few threads on the garment.

Flared Skirt
When hemming a flared skirt, a few extra steps are necessary. After the excessive material has been trimmed and the hem pressed, it is necessary to shrink out some of the fullness. This is done with a steam iron by placing a piece of paper or cardboard between the hem and garment so it doesn't mark the right side of the fabric.

If the fabric is not too bulky, seam tape can be used. Stitch the seam tape on and if there is still fullness after the shrinking process it is possible to use small darts or pleats. If darts or pleats are used, they should be placed where the fullness naturally falls. They are always turned toward the side seam. It is better to have a number of small pleats rather than two or three large ones.

Don Bosco, Notre Dame Post Wins Over St. Mary Quintet

Zephyrs Fall to Dons, 38-36; Drop 51-47 Test to Redwings

Milwaukee — St. Mary dropped a pair of close decisions in its two starts against Milwaukee Catholic conference teams here over the weekend.

The Menashans bowed to Notre Dame, 51-47 Sunday afternoon after losing a 38-36 test to Don Bosco Saturday night. In both games the Zephyrs blew third period leads.

They had a 27-21 lead over Bosco at one point in the third quarter and were in front of Notre Dame by nine points early in the same frame of the Sunday afternoon contest.

Against Bosco, the Zephyrs had a hard time getting started. The first period was half gone before Gary Batley made a free throw for the first point and 14 minutes remained when Jim Rueckl canned the first field goal. The score was 11-5 at the end of the initial frame.

Hits 5 Baskets Rueckl got going in the second period and collected five baskets to pace the Zephyrs to an 11-point frame. They got a 17-all tie and baskets by Batley and Mike DuFrane gave the visitors a 21-17 lead. The Zephyrs' halftime margin was 23-19.

Bob Metternich opened the third quarter with a bucket to shave the Zephyr margin to 23-21 but Jerry Laemmrich and Batley scored for a 27-21 advantage. Metternich then made five points to shave the score to 27-26 but the Menashans managed a 30-28 lead at the close of the period.

Sager Sparks Dons Tom Sager, Bosco player, who had been injured in the second period, returned in the fourth frame and sparked the Dons. Bosco went ahead 32-31 but Jim Bayer tied the score with a free throw.

With 3:30 left, Wagner made a basket to put Bosco ahead by two but at the two minute mark Bill Becker tied the score with a basket. Thirty seconds later Sager hit on a jump shot to put the Dons ahead again. He added a lay-up with a minute left for a 38-34 score.

Rueckl scored for St. Mary with 20 seconds left and with five seconds remaining the Menashans got the ball but time ran out before they could get a shot off.

Atueckl and Batley had 14 and 11 points for St. Mary; and Metternich hit 15 to top the Dons.

Zephyrs Take Lead The Menashans were on the short end of a 17-1 score at the end of the first quarter against Notre Dame but took a 27-22 halftime lead by scoring 13 points in the second gym.

The Menashmen advanced to a 23-5 first quarter lead and they were in front 43-28 at halftime.

The winners added 23 points in the third period to 17 for the Merchants and a 66-43 score. Hewitt's had a 23-17 and six free throws in seven attempts. Notre Dame came up with 18 points in the last quarter while holding St. Mary to 11 to take the win.

Papreckl scored 24 points on nine baskets and six free throws to pace the Notre

His father, Willard Eaton, downed a six-point, 135 pounder just a minute after the season got underway.

Bluejays Gain 4th Crown in Last 8 Years

Menashans Close 1958 Schedule With 6-1-1 Mark

Menasha — Its fourth Mid-Eastern conference championship in the last eight years and the third under Coach Carl Steffin, was the accomplishment turned in by this year's Menasha High school football squad.

To the undisputed crowns in 1951 and 1953 and the tie for first in 1952, the Menashans added a solo title this fall on their record of six wins and a tie.

Combining a group of seven or eight experienced seniors with a few talented sophomores and other players up from the jayvees, Steffin molded a club which didn't overpower any foe but was good enough to win six conference games and tie the seventh.

Average 13 Points In posting an overall 6-1-1 record, the Jays scored 105 points for an average of a shade over 13 per game and they limited their eight opponents to 38 or an average of almost five per start.

A closer study of the statistics shows that the Menashans only allowed 13 points in the second half or 16 quarter. Gary Thyes, junior and Roners, Kimberly made seven in the fourth frame of the final game to gain a tie and Clin-

Red Housing Includes Many Log Cabins

United Nations, N.Y.—Russia has sent the United Nations a report indicating that it put up more houses last year than all its European neighbors together. Some of the houses are log cabins.

A new U.N. survey says the Russians, who promised to provide a home for every Soviet family by 1970, is producing more than 50 per cent of Europe's total house construction. The figures show the Russians boosted their own output by 30 per cent in 1957.

The same upward swing was noted throughout the communist states of eastern Europe, which are encouraging home construction with more state aid, free land offers and a variety of readily available building materials.

Despite the upward trend, however, the report noted, building levels in the iron curtain countries are still far below the western standard. There also is a marked difference in the size and type of dwellings. New houses in the west averaged between four and five rooms, the communist nations averaged about three.

Browns Top Redskins, Regain Undisputed 1st Place in East

By the Associated Press
Thundering Jimmy Brown, Cleveland's running virtuoso, today had picked one of the National Football league's juiciest plums, was near another, and had propelled the Browns closer to a division championship.
The Cleveland fullback set a season rushing record Sunday as the Browns regained undisputed possession of first place in the Eastern conference with a 20-10 victory at Washington.
Brown gained 152 yards in 27 tries, totally eclipsing the standard of 1,146 yards set in 12 games by Steve Van Bur-en of Philadelphia in 1949. The former Syracuse A. I. America has amassed 1,163 yards in only eight games, 2 Short Plunges
A sophomore in pro ranks, Brown scored twice on short plunges. The Cleveland stand-out has 17 touchdowns for the season, one short of Van Bur-en's record.
Cleveland's triumph, coupled with the 31-10 upset of the New York Giants by Bobby Layne and his Pittsburgh mates, left the Browns on top with a 6-2 record. Runnerup New York is a game back.
The race in the Western conference virtually was broken wide open as Baltimore's second-string quarter-back, George Shaw, passed the Colts to a 17-0 triumph over Chicago's Bears. Baltimore, has a 7-1 record for a 2-game lead over Chicago and Los Angeles. The Rams tied for the runner-up spot by knocking off Green Bay 20-7.
In other games, halfback Gene Gedman led the way as Detroit pasted San Francisco, 35-21, and Philadelphia easily handled Chicago's Cardinals, 49-21.
Brown scored on plunges of one and five yards, but it was a Lou Groza field goal that beat the Redskins. The teams had traded touchdowns and field goals in the first half.

George Bayer Beats Snead In Playoff

Wins Top Prize Of $6,500 in Havana Tourney.

BY WILL GRIMSLEY
Havana —(U)— Now that George Bayer is harnessing his mighty power he is threatening to become one of the great all-time attractions of golf, as say, Sam Snead.
People love a slugger. They made Babe Ruth an idol in baseball and Jack Dempsey one in boxing. For years they have flocked to watch Snead, the graceful, prodigious fair-way slammer from West Virginia.
Now comes Bayer, a giant of a man who stands 6-5 and hits the ball farther than any man has hit one before.
Wins $6,500
The former football tackle from the University of Washington won a dramatic sudden death playoff from Snead Sunday for the $6,500 top prize in the Havana International Golf tournament.
Bayer was in with a 72-hole score of 286 when Snead came to the eighteenth needing only a 5-foot putt to take first prize.
"He'll blow it," said a golfing friend to Bayer.
"Not a chance—he'll make it," said Bayer gloomily.
Snead stroked and missed and the tournament went into an extra-hole playoff. "I'll get him now," said Bayer.
And he did. Throwing all his power into the tee shot, the San Gabriel, Calif., giant almost drove the length of the 374-yard par 4 extra hole, but the ball landed in a trap in front of the green. Snead's drive was 40 to 50 yards short.
Muscular Bayer blasted out within 10 feet of the cup and won.

Deer 'Take' In County Double '57

The Outagamie County "take" thus far in the 1958 Wisconsin deer hunting season is running close to double the 1957 totals at this time, indications are.
The Seymour police station, one of the county check-in points, was registering its 100th deer at about 10:30 this morning. It was shot by Curtis Shaeffer, Green Bay.
That total is about double the number recorded at the same stage of the season last year.
Half Camp Deer
Authorities at Seymour say that about half of the total number of deer were taken under the camp deer permit.
At the Hortonville police station, a second county check-in station, it was reported that close to twice as many deer as were shot in 1957 have been recorded thus far. The 1958 deer are bigger, it is reported.
As of Saturday night, about 118 deer were checked in at Alma and about the same number at Nelson, both in the Buffalo county.
No report from the Outagamie County courthouse check-in station was available this morning.

The Lawrence college football team has finished a solo last in the Midwest conference football race for the first time in 19 years.
In their season finale at Northfield, Minn., Saturday, the '58 Vikes absorbed a 35-14 beating from St. Olaf. As it turned out, the Vikes couldn't have escaped the cellar even with a win. Grinnell, a co-last place candidate prior to the final weekend of play, sprang a 21-6 upset on Coe, the previously unbeaten conference champion.
'39 Vikes Last
Only one other time in Bernie Heseltin's notable 21-year coaching career at Lawrence (with 17 of the seasons counting in "official" conference standings) has a Vike team been the sole cellar occupant. The 1939 Vikes finished, with a 1-4 MC record.
The 1957 Vikes compiled the same record as this year's edition (1-7) but shared the bottom rung with Monmouth.
Lawrence's only win this season came at the expense of Monmouth.
Dennis Runck, converted from end to halfback this season, scored three touchdowns to pace the Oles' win over Lawrence and give former Neenah Coach Tom Porter a 4-4 season and fourth place in his first year as St. Olaf head man.
Fifth in Row
The win was the fifth straight for the Oles in their series with Lawrence. It marked the Vikes' fourth setback at St. Olaf in four tries.
Runck Saturday scored on a 1-yard off-tackle slant, a 60-yard punt return and a 57-yard pass play (initiated by Mike Simpson).
The other Ole TDs came on a 2-yard plunge by fullback Bob Algeo and a 1-yard shot by halfback Nate Aus.
Lawrence scored on a 55-yard pass play, Jim Schulze to Dave Mulford, and a 2-yard plunge by Gary Scovel.
Aus led the 320-yard St. Olaf rushing attack with 72 yards in 17 tries. Bill Greenslit added 50 in 12 tries, while Runck went 6-for-45.
Mulford paced Vike ball with 15 carries for 45 yards.

Ameche Helps Create a New Concept in Fullbacks' Play

BY JOE MOOSHIL
Chicago —(U)— Baltimore's Alan Ameche could be one of the reasons pro football fullbacks are running more like halfbacks these days.
Some critics said the former Wisconsin A. I. America would never make the grade in the National Football league because he ran in the line from a standup position.
Concept Changes
"I never knew I had any critics," smiled Ameche after he had gained 142 yards rushing to lead the Colts to a 17-0 victory over the Chicago Bears. "But the concept about fullbacks has changed a lot since the old days.

Vikes Place 3rd In Harrier Test

Pinkerton Fifth Among Individuals; Peele Sets Record

Grinnell college, which failed to place a man among the first six individual finishers Saturday, succeeded Lawrence as cross country champion of the Midwest conference.
Grinnell scored 59 points, (compared to the '57 Vikes' record-equaling total of 28) to finish 25 ahead of runnerup Cornell. Lawrence, with 96 points, came in third.
Record-Smashing Run
Beloit's Dave Peele turned in a record-smashing 3-mile run of 14 minutes, 36.1 seconds over Chicago's Washington park course to depose Lawrence's Tad Pinkerton as individual champion. Peele cracked the existing conference standard of 15:36 set by Carleton's Wilbur Olson in 1956 and the old course record of 14:43.
Pinkerton turned in a faster time (15:47) than his winning effort of last year, yet finished only fifth in the torrid race. Ahead of the junior from Wau-paca were Peele, St. Olaf's Dave Wee, Cornell's Henry Latimer and St. Olaf's Syl Moe.
Ron Simon, the only other Vike to finish in the top 15, came in sixth with a good clocking of 15:49.
The other three Vikes whose finishes counted in the stand-touchdown. The Packers couldn't get off the mark in the last dozen minutes and the game ended 20-7.

Green Bay now has the poorest record in the National Football league, 1-6-1, since Philadelphia leaped out of the 1-win class by whipping the Chicago Cardinals. The Packers play their next two games in a 5-day period — San Francisco in Milwaukee next Sunday and the Lions in Detroit Thanksgiving day.
It was lead grey Sunday, the air was misty and an enthusiastic crowd did everything but get out and move the ball upfield for the Packers. But it just wasn't to be for this hard-pressed Bay offense which has now counted only 17 points in the last three games.
The Packer offense wasn't

Warrior '11' Plays Holy Cross Next

Bows to Cincinnati as Goal Line Punch Fails

Milwaukee —(P)— The loss of key men and the lack of offensive drive near the goal line hurt Marquette in Saturday's 15-0 loss to Cincinnati's football team.

The Warriors posted 14 first downs to 13 for Cincinnati, but the home team lacked the Bearcats' ability to get the scores.

Cincinnati's Ed Kovac drove one yard to cap Cincinnati's 30-yard touchdown march in the second period. Joe Morrison took a pass from Jack Lee for 36 yards and a TD in the fourth period.

Lee's pass to Ron Reinhold and his place kick accounted for the Bearcats' three points after touchdowns.

Couldn't Finish
Marquette drove from its own 44-yard line to Cincinnati's three in the final period, but couldn't finish the march. Sophomore fullback John Lane, taking over after Frank Mestnik was expelled from the field, took two cracks at the Bearcats' line and picked up just one yard. Cincinnati took over on downs.

The Warriors missed Mestnik, who accounted for 44 yards on 14 carries before he was ousted early in the third period. Halfback Dick Timmer led Marquette's ground attack with 56 yards on 11 tries.

Fighting and rough tactics brought the removal of Mestnik and Cincinnati's Tom Pacl and Gene Johnson. The Bearcats were penalized 100 of the 155 yards subtracted for various penalties in the game.

Marquette's attack also was hindered by injuries which limited the length of appearance of quarterback Pete Hall and prevented halfback Si Woods from starting the game.

Completes Just 5
John Cornell, taking Hall's place, was a capable play director but he completed only five of 15 passes for just 36 yards.

Meanwhile the talented Lee completed six of 10 passes for 84 yards. Cincinnati passed for 126 yards, while Marquette got 38 aerial yards.

The Warriors also had no runner on a par with Morrison and Kovac. Morrison carried the ball 86 yards on 10 rushes and caught two of Lee's passes for 43 yards. Kovac ran back three punts a total of 72 yards. His 26-yard punt returned to the Warriors' 30 set up the Cats' touchdown in the second period.

The Warriors, with two victories, five losses and a tie, finish their season with visits to Holy Cross Saturday and Arizona State (Tempe) Nov. 29.

LSU Only Major Unbeaten, Untied College '11' Left

By the Associated Press
The nation's list of unbeaten, untied college football teams is down to 15 today with Louisiana State the only major school.

LSU became the only major survivor when it defeated Mississippi State, 7-6, Saturday night after Rutgers lost to the Quantic Marines, 13-12.

Eleven of the 14 minor schools on the list have completed their seasons.

In minor competition, St. Benedict's had a 10-game winning season.

Arizona State at Flagstaff has won nine games while Northeastern Oklahoma, Gustavus Adolphus, Wheaton, Kearney and Chadron have completed their seasons with nine triumphs.

Still playing, Mississippi Southern has won eight games and Florida A&M has defeated six rivals. Rose Poly, California (Pa.), Rochester, Seawance and Missouri Valley all finished with eight victories.

Adlai Learns Soviet-China Alliance Will Stand Strain

BY GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

New York—Adlai Stevenson learned something important during his visit to Soviet Russia. He learned that the unity of Soviet Russia and red China is cemented fast and that it is formidable.

Stevenson made the point.

... it would be a great mistake to underestimate the present solidarity of the Soviet Union and China, or, indeed, as Mr. Khrushchev implied, of the whole communist empire. They may fight like cats and dogs with each other, but as to the outside world their unity is formidable. They will stick together. Theirs is one universe; ours is another.

The Polish foreign minister used the analogy of a family where emotional arguments at home do not mean disunion outside.

"And any idea that the Soviet Union and China especially can be divided is dangerous fantasy, at least for the present."

Correct Appraisal

This appraisal is about 100 per cent correct barring some sudden upheaval in the world which can change everything. Such an upheaval might be a war. But short of something cataclysmic, there can be little hope for the separation of red China from Soviet Russia. It is not within the logic of history that there should be such a separation.

What can happen, however, is that in that curious ideolo-

Braves' Payment To County Almost Double '57 Total

Milwaukee —(P)— Milwaukee county has harvested the fruits of its new contract with the Milwaukee Braves and discovered its income from baseball in 1958 was almost double that of a year ago.

The county received $421,811 as its share of concessions and admissions for games played in Milwaukee County stadium during 1958. The county's total baseball income was swelled to $650,000 by receipts from parking lots around the stadium.

The county received $216,000 in 1957. The new contract was written just before the start of the 1958 season.

gical, semi-religious mechanism which binds the communist of the Soviet universal state. Mao is a professional philosopher. He taught philosophy before he became a politician. He is a Marxist by conviction; he has based his philosophy upon the dialectical materialism of Karl Marx. This goes back to the early 1920's and is unrelated to any current situation. In a word, it is a thorough conviction, long and sincerely held.

If Khrushchev is a man of action, Mao is a man of ideas and in the Soviet world, ideas play as great a role as action. In Soviet Russia ideas are taken as seriously as they were in the middle ages before everybody became sophisticated. Young people in the Soviet empire are quarrelling over ideas rather than for place to which most cannot accede anyhow because of the restrictions of party membership.

Important Person
The theoretician is an important personage in the communist party. If the novel and short story mirror life, the Russian is still more concerned with ideas—with the Russian "soul"—than the peoples of the western world who devote themselves so much to action. Even the "beatniks" of our country are not thinking youth, but a nihilistic youth, frightened by the disappointments of their era. There are no heroic figures among them. To find a similar unity in the west requires thinking out our basic problems. Curiously, our first problem is not economic but spiritual. We need to believe in something positively. Most of our religions have become humanistic rather than with the glory of God. Even those fundamentalists who believe in the efficacy of prayer, give it a functional purpose like hocking a watch in a pawnshop. One does not pray for something; one prays to God as an act of adoration which is soul cleansing. It is an important point because it could give direction to Western life.

mer Ram, did two good turns early in the first quarter.

With six stripes to go for a touchdown and Arnett and Joe Marconi at his command, Wade went to the air twice after Arnett was held to one. On third down Whittenton shook the ball loose from Shofner in the end zone, and Paige Cothren was forced into a field goal try. It was good from the 12 for a 3-0 edge at 4:11.

After the Bays were held to one first down and McGee punted, Whittenton tossed Arnett for a 15-yard loss—much to the delight of the audience. This forced a Shofner punt and the Packers scored in seven plays, going 82 yards.

44-Yard Flip
Parilli's 44-yard TD flip was tipped off Morris and McGee made a sparkling reaction catch and juggled the ball going into the end zone. Hornung's conversion made it 7-3 at 11:27.

Dan Currie's flip tackle on Arnett on the kickoff and a clipping penalty on L.A. set up the 93-yard strike. Phillips, playing at left end, cut across to the right and took Wade's long throw behind Hank Gremminger and Al Romine on the Ram 43 and legged it in. Cothren's kick made it 10-7 at 12:44.

Three of the next four times the Packers had the ball, they moved into Ram territory but failed to score.

Take 13-7 Lead

The Rams took a 13-7 lead on a Cothren field goal from the 36 at 5:21 of the third period and the crowd was unhappy during the drive. The officials made what seemed like a dumb interference call on Billy Kinard. And there was a fast whistle on a possible fumble and the crowd set up such loud booing that Wade once called for quiet.

The Rams, a bit later, went on an 8-play 70-yard touchdown drive, with Arnett scoring.

With a 20-7 lead, the Rams hurled everybody at Parilli and Starr in the final quarter.

completely dead. After scoring and taking a 7-3 lead on "Babe" Parilli's 44-yard pass to Max McGee, the Packers moved into good scoring position five times but couldn't squeeze out a point. Twice Paul Hornung tried field goals but his first, from 39 yards, hit the upright, a 3-inch pipe, and bounced back onto the field. The second was barely wide from the 30.

Reach Midfield

Three other times the Packers reached midfield but twice lost the ball on interceptions of Parilli passes by Don Burroughs who wound up with three of the four Ram interceptions, all off Parilli. To complete his day, Burroughs recovered the Packers' only fumble, by Parilli.

To make it more exasperating, Parilli twice overthrew McGee on sure touchdown passes—the first time when Max worked way loose early in the first quarter with the Rams ahead 3-0 and the second time when McGee beat Jack Morris by five yards on the Ram two late in the third period.

Bart Starr, making his first appearance of the game midway in the fourth quarter, overshot Bill Howton who had Morris beaten by 10 yards at midfield. All wasn't overfiring. Joe Johnson, when hit by

Will Sherman, couldn't hang on to a touchdown pass from Parilli in the end zone in the second quarter.

304-Yard Offense

At that, the Bays came up with a 304-yard offense—a definite improvement over the 145 against the Bears a week ago. Parilli completed 17 out of 31 passes for 211 yards. The Packers didn't have much rush—the best being 63 yards in 11 trips by Hornung, who was getting a full go for the first time. The Bays finished with 81 yards rushing, 223 passing.

Hornung caught five passes for 73 yards to overshadow the great Jon Arnett who rushed 56 yards in 15 attempts and caught three passes for 87 yards. Arnett never found the going as tough as it was Sunday.

Quite Human
The Packer defense kept the Rams down to 132 yards rushing but permitted a giant 372 passing, with Bill Wade probably not getting enough of a rush. Wade acted quite human when the Packers did put the heat on. He threw it away several times and had two intercepted — by Bobby Dillon, who returned 46 yards, and John Symank, who replaced Bobby in the second half after Dillon was injured on his long return.

The Packers' biggest aerial thorn next to Wade was Jim Phillips who snared eight passes for 208 yards. His first catch was loaded with seven points and stretched out to a Ram-record 93 yards. It came two plays after McGee's touchdown and gave the Rams a 10-7 edge. Phillips' eighth catch, a 27-yarder, and the Rams' last pass of the day, set up the Rams' other touchdown—a 5-yard scamper by Arnett in the fourth period. The 93-yarder was the longest of the season in the league, beating a Wade-Shofner 92-yarder.

Just 58 Plays

The Packer offense kept the ball for only 58 plays against the Rams' 77. But the Bay defense played it tough all the way, never giving up hope at points would be forthcoming.

Factors in Sewage Problems of Appleton are illustrated by these three maps. At upper left, the shaded areas are those annexed to the city since 1950, representing an area growth of 36.3 per cent. At upper right, the shaded areas denote parts of the city where storm and sanitary sewers are not separated, a condition which sometimes result in flooded basements during storm times. The other map pinpoints areas for which the council has made commitments for service totaling $446,200 in sanitary sewer trunks alone. Starting clockwise at the lower left, the areas are the industrial park, the northwest sewage lift station, the northeast Kesting, Kirk and Laux annexation, the Hansen-Bassett annexation, the Schaefer annexation and the second high school site.

Court Vows to Solve Mystery Of Anastasia

Hamburg, Germany — A German court is determined to establish the real identity of a 58-year-old woman who claims to be Anastasia, last daughter of the last czar.

The case of Anna Anderson, who claims membership in the imperial Romanov family, has been in and out of German courts for decades. But all attempts of the aging and ailing woman to be officially recognized as Anastasia have failed, so far.

About a year ago, a Hamburg district court took up the case again. Several hearings were held at which witnesses testified for and against her claims.

This week a court spokesman said the judges were determined to get to the bottom of the case but no public hearings will be held. More testimony will be collected, he said, but in writing.

In addition, a doctor will be asked to make a check of Mrs. Anderson's health. She has not appeared in court, contending bad health prevented her from doing so.

can be heard by the court, it would move to her bedside to receive testimony. Furthermore, the spokesman said, an expert on Russian would be asked to check her mastery of that language.

Lawyers for the House of Hesse, contending Mrs. Anderson's claim to the title of Russian princess, insist she is Franziska Schanzkowsky, a Polish farm laborer.

Wisconsin's Health Diarrhea Can be Deadly: Also Largely Preventable

By Carl N. Neupert, M. D., State Health Officer

One of the most common diseases of childhood and infancy is largely preventable. This is diarrhea which, along with other intestinal ailments, last year took the lives of 61 Wisconsin infants under one year of age.

Also common among older people, diarrhea and associated diseases, such as enteritis, and colitis, claimed a total of 151 state victims in 1957. Over half of these were under 10 years old, while one-third were sixty or older.

The most frequent cause of diarrhea is infection caused by eating spoiled or contaminated foods. Dishes such as fowl, ham, etc. should be thoroughly cooked just before serving and any leftovers soap, warm water and brush after any contact with the patient, before preparing a meal and before eating. During the last decade—chiefly through the efforts of physicians teaching personal hygiene and public health officials promoting improved sanitation—we have reduced diarrhea fatalities as much as 25 per cent. With adequate preventive measures, we can cut this loss even more in the decade to come.

Income Taxes Must be Paid on Interest From Government Bonds

BY WILLIAM A. DOYLE

Q. I recently bought a $1,000 U.S. treasury bond for $965. It pays 3 1/2 per cent interest and will mature in February, 1960. I took money from my savings account to buy this bond because I was told that the interest received from government bonds is exempt from income taxes.

Upon reading the bond, however, I find that it states that the interest is subject to income taxes.

I am a working man and am not familiar with bonds. Please tell me if I have to declare the $35 a year interest that I will receive in my income taxes. This is my first experience in buying securities and will probably be my last.

A. You received some bad advice. The interest on almost all U.S. Treasury bonds is subject to federal income taxes. This goes for coupon bonds, savings bonds, notes and certificates.

One Exception The only exception is the 2 1/2 per cent coupon bond issue that matures on Dec. 15, 1965. The treasury has the right to redeem this one in 1960 and probably will. This is the last of the outstanding federal "tax exempts."

For the benefit of other readers who may know even less about bonds than you do, perhaps a short (admittedly incomplete) rundown of the federal bond market is in order.

Except for savings bonds, most federal debt obligations are traded in the open market. They can be quoted at, above or below their face (par) value. Right now most are selling well below par. The one you hold is quoted even lower than the price you paid. If you keep it until it matures, the government will pay you the full face value.

The ordinary investor usually goes to a bank when he wants to buy a treasury bond. The bank places the order through a firm that specializes in these bonds. Institutions and big investors, of course, deal directly with the "bond houses."

It's pretty obvious where you, or the person who advised you, went wrong in the first place. You had U.S. treasury bonds mixed up with what are generally known as "municipals."

The "municipals" are the bonds of municipalities (such as cities, towns, school districts). This term is also used to cover debt obligations of states, territories, counties and organizations like turnpike authorities and port authorities.

The interest on "municipals" is exempt from federal income taxes.

So, you're unhappy because you feel you made a mistake and will have to pay income taxes on something you didn't figure on. I hope you realize that you would have to pay income taxes on any interest you received if you left the money in the savings account.

Q. I have been sitting with some stock of New Park Mining for some time. It hasn't done much but I have studied this company and feel that it has a good future. Do you agree? I know it is a speculation but I am willing and financially able to take the risk. So, don't scold me.

A. I won't scold you. As long as you know what you're doing and are in a financial position to try for a profit in a rather small mining company, go to it and good luck.

New Park does seem to have a lot of possibilities. It stands to benefit from the rise in copper, lead and zinc prices. It owns stock in various other small western mining companies. One of these, Lucky Mo-Uranium, is turning into a very profitable mining and milling operation.

Fog Covers State; Cold Days Ahead

Fox Cities Mild While Winter Hits Nation's Southwest

All of Wisconsin was wrapped in fog early this morning as temperatures remained well above normal for the season. The outlook today called for rain — possibly mixed with snow — and much colder weather by Tuesday.

Milwaukee's Mitchell field was closed down during the night because of fog, but the overcast was lifted there at 8 a.m. and air traffic resumed.

Wintry weather spread into southwestern sections of the country today after the season's first general blizzard pounded the Rocky mountain region and northern plains over the weekend.

Snow Warnings Heavy snow covered wide areas, with falls ranging to several feet in the mountains to four inches at the Mexican border. Temperatures dropped below zero in higher elevations.

Heavy snow warnings continued in effect from New Mexico northward through the Panhandle area and western parts of Kansas, Nebraska and the Dakotas.

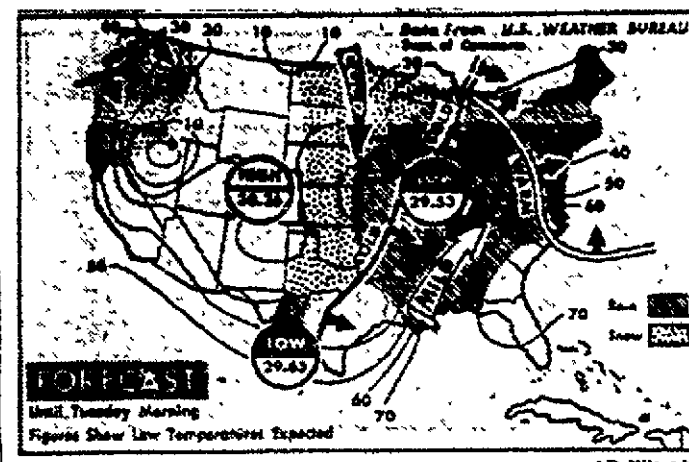

Unseasonably mild weather continued in most of the eastern half of the country. It also was wet and many areas reported high humidity.

State Readings In Wisconsin, nighttime minimum temperatures ranged from 58 at La Crosse to 39 at Superior. Lone Rock had a low of 53, Lake Geneva and Madison 51, Green Bay 50, Milwaukee 49, Eau Claire 48, Grantsburg 46, Wausau 45 and Park Falls 44.

The Sunday highs were in the 40s and 50s or 6 to 13 degrees above normal for mid-November. Lone Rock topped the readings with 59.

Superior reported the most rain in the 24 hour period ending at 7 a.m. today — one quarter of an inch.

Augusta, Ga., and Tampa, Fla., led the national warm-up Sunday with 88 and Butte, Mont., recorded 14 degrees below zero early today.

Weather Forecast—Snow or rain is forecast for the nation east of the Rockies tonight with the exception of the southeast coast states and part of Texas. Snow or rain also is forecast for the upper northwest. It will continue mild in the southeast while cold weather will continue in the central part of the country.

Alderman Wants Water Service Policy Reversed

A reversal of city policy in ordering water service extended beyond the city limits is sought by Ald. Mrs. Stillings.

In a resolution filed at city hall for forwarding to the council she asks that the council, instead of the water commission, control extensions.

She wants the water commission to make no commitments on water service extension and also that "all such extensions be decided on individual merit as related to the problems of annexation."

The water commission was instructed by the council to collect a connection charge equivalent to the current water main assessment for the property's frontage on the city main when the property is on streets bordering the city limits.

The council decision was made as part of a street and sanitation committee report which gave S. C. Shannon company permission to hook up to the Ballard road water main, although Shannon property had not yet been annexed.

Mrs. Stillings at the last council meeting sought to stop award of service to the Wendlandt Renovating company on the out-of-city side of Ballard road.

Gains of a point or better were made by Merck, Anaconda, Lorillard and American Smelting.

U.S. government bonds were mostly firm.

$20,000 Aid For Prospect, Says County

City First Asked More for Rebuilding Street, Curb, Gutter

Appleton probably will get $20,000 in Outagamie county aid instead of the $33,400 it requested for rebuilding W. Prospect avenue at the southwest city limits.

The county's highway committee will recommend the county pay $20,000 for 18 feet of the planned 39-foot roadway. The committee also will make sure its policy of building no curbs and gutters in towns doesn't change. The committee will specify the aid is for the roadway only, Chairman Fred Krause indicated.

The section for which county aid will be given is from Hillcrest drive to about 120 feet west of Perkins street—1,650 feet. Highway committee members calculated the aid on the basis of what it would cost the county to rebuild the 18-foot section and put it in a cold mix top coat. The city plans to pave the street with concrete.

Contingency Fund Money for the aid will come from the county's $400,000 contingency fund and will not be a part of the 1959 highway budget.

The city plans to rebuild W. Prospect from Douglas street to the city limits and originally asked the county for the entire segment. However, the city asked that most of the section be taken off the county trunk system some time ago, and the county declined to aid in rebuilding a street off the system.

The aid from the county is similar to that given for the paving of E. John street last year.

Burglars Get $26 At 2 Businesses

Burglars took $26.30 from two businesses at 526 W. Wisconsin avenue between 6:30 p.m. Sunday and this morning.

The thieves pried open a locked desk and took $25 from Integrity Mutual of Appleton and $1.30 from an unlocked desk at Moe Northern company. The burglars pried open a file, but got nothing. Safes in both offices were not touched, police said.

The burglars got into the building by lifting a grate leading to a basement window, which was unlocked. They pried open a door leading to the upper floors and to each of the offices.

After an ad is ordered, it cannot be changed before one publication.

When cancelling an ad, demand a "kill number." No claims recognized on ads cancelled without it.
The number of days an ad is published determines the rate of such ads.

Adjustments
The Appleton Post-Crescent assumes no responsibility for verbal statements in conflict with its established rules, policies or rates.
All claims for adjustments or refunds must be made within 7 days after a statement of an error, and the fault of the advertiser, which clearly lessen the value of the advertisement, should be corrected the first day, when one extra corrected insertion will be made without charge. The Post-Crescent assumes no responsibility for error after the first insertion.

Lawrence Says:
2 Per Cent of Eligible voters
Decide Election
Analysis Indicates
1,600,000 Ballots
Determined Congress

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington — Less than 2 per cent of the eligible voters in the United States decided the congressional election this year — about 1,600,000 out of 100,000,000.

These facts emerge from an examination of the statistics of the voting outside Lawrence the solid south and the border states, nearly all of whose congressional districts usually vote under the Democratic party label.

Approximately 52 per cent of the voters in the north voted Democratic this time and 48 per cent Republican. This is a spread of four percentage points, and out of the approximately 41,000,000 votes cast in the congressional elections in the west, north and east, this means that about 1,600,000 voters swing the election.

These are the switch voters. Sometimes they are called independents, though this word implies that they carefully weigh the merits of the argument and come to a judicial conclusion. Actually, they are the people who vote against the party in power no matter what its name. They don't vote in favor of a particular set of policies or programs — they simply record their disapproval of things as they are.

Margin of 13
Subtracting the 129 Democrats elected—hardly any of them modernists—in the districts in the south and border states which usually go Democratic and where there are rarely any contesting candidates offered by the Republican party, the score in the November election in the north, east and west this year was 154 Democrats to 141 Republicans. This is a margin of 13.

Not included in the 141 Republican total are the 11 Republicans elected in the border states and in the south, nearly every one of whom opposed integration. Actually, it seems plausible to estimate that far fewer than 1,600,000 votes swung the election. This is because in many districts in the northern cities, usually Democratic, the total was simply increased beyond the normal figure.

The discontented vote for the most part, however, not only registered but cast its ballot. Aside from unemployment, the discontent on the Republican side was greatest among farmers and small businesses. Modern Republicanism hasn't offered as yet anything to attract them. In many of these districts modern Republican nominees also went down to defeat.

Not All Economic
Not all the discontent was economic. It should give the new champions of modern Republicanism something to think about. They should take a second look at California, where a private poll made during the recent campaign by a reputable organization showed that integration was placed higher on the list of issues by those citizens interviewed than any other single topic of national importance.

Resentment over the use of federal troops at Little Rock and over enforced integration was given by many a voter as his reason for being at odds with the Republican party.

Liberty Bell 4-H

A Christmas party will be held Dec. 20.

Challenges of Education Can Turn to Advantages, UW Head Says

Madison — American education has entered a critical and challenging era, University of Wisconsin President Conrad A. Elvehjem said today, "but with broad public understanding and strong public support these challenges can be Elvehjem made advantages for our society."

Progress of American technology, the fast-growing need for highly trained specialists as well as broadly educated citizens, the increasing desire of young people for more education, the explosive growth of knowledge, and increasing birth rates; Elvehjem said, all are providing greater challenges for the schools from kindergarten through post-doctoral studies.

He said sputnik and "the exaggerations about the effectiveness of Russian education have served the purpose of dramatizing some of the values of education in national life, and heightened American concern for our schools."

Progress of American technology, the fast-growing need for highly trained specialists as well as broadly educated to our schools — both public and private support must be increased considerably.

2. The status of the teacher must be improved in our society so that the most capable young people are drawn into teaching at all educational levels — this involves, among other things, sizable increases in salary levels for teachers.

3. Development of our education should not be determined by "hysterical reactions to temporary needs," but rather by genuine concern for the well-being of society.

Balance Opportunities
Dr. Elvehjem called for "balance in educational opportunities to turn out well-rounded citizens, independent thinkers, and humanists, as well as technicians and specialists."

1. A greater proportion of our wealth must be devoted by technological and educational system."

Community Club
Plans Party for Bear Creek Youth

Bear Creek — Plans for a Christmas party for the children of the community have been made by the Bear Creek Community club. The party will be held at 1:30 p.m. Dec. 21 at the village hall. Santa Claus will distribute candy and a community Christmas tree will be erected.

alone. The need for historical perspective, a good sense of values, unselfish concern for fellow men, and all the elements of responsible civilization have not been diminished by scientific progress," he said. "And to prepare the individual for independent thinking is still the most constructive goal of our educational system."

We're putting the pyramids right back where they were!

Recently we have been testing a slightly different label on the Camel package. The experimental design changed the illustration and the wording a little. That's all. No change whatever was made in the famous Camel blend of choice Turkish and domestic tobaccos.

What we learned in the test is that Camel smokers prefer the original package, so we're putting the pyramids right back where they were, as quickly as we can do it. The test package is being discontinued, so you will soon be getting your Camels in the package you know so well.

We have always been proud of the loyalty of Camel smokers, and we thank you for helping us decide not to change the looks of the package that brings you the best-liked cigarette of them all! (Yes, we are happy to say that again this year, for the 10th straight year, Camel outsells all others!)
